U.S., Havana Dicker Over Terms

Squally Weather Stymies Cuban Refugees' Exodus

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Squally weather stymied the exodus of Cuban refugees today while Washington and Havana dickered over terms for a systematic movement of thousands.

Four Cuban exiles bound for their homeland were picked up by the 209-foot Panamanian vessel Titan after their small boat was battered by heavy waves some 25 miles off the Florida coast.

The exiles were transferred to a Coast Guard cutter and handed over to immigration officials at Islamorada, in the Florida Keys. A Coast Guard spokesman said they apparently had been headed for Cuba to pick up relatives.

Only one small boat braved the tossing Gulf Stream to put out from the Cuban port of Camarioca Wednesday. It was the 30-foot Mistral, with 23 refugees.

At least 10 small boats carrying more than 200 Cubans from their homeland have left Camarioca and sailed to Florida since Prime Minister Fidel Castro opened the doors.

A possibility developed that Castro might free political prisoners who are in jail because they oppose his regime.

The State Department reported Wednesday that Castro had replied to the latest U.S. note on movement of the refugees without flatly turning down a proposal that political prisoners be among the first to leave.

"That's a surprise," said one U.S. official. "I didn't imagine he would give it a second thought."

Castro accepted U.S. proposals that immediate relatives of refugees already in the United States be the first to leave.

But the proposal that political prisoners be next "requires further talks," said Marshall Wright, State Department press officer.

Aside from the humanitarian consideration that these people have been in jail for years, the United States would like to see them freed because of their value, another official said.

"They are all very able men, or else Castro wouldn't have them in jail," said the official, who would not be quoted by name. "They could do this country a lot of good if Castro ever falls."

Ten small boats were in the Camarioca harbor waiting for port officials to decide that weather was clear enough to let them go.

The Weather Bureau said it didn't expect the squalls to begin subsiding until Friday.

Exiles in Miami were cleaning out marinas of boats for the trip to Cuba. The offering price for chartering a 35-footer for the trip is reported to have gone up to $4,000.

Rebuffs Conservative Effort

Vatican Council Adopts Document Phase On Jews

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council today rebuffed a last-ditch conservative effort to block the assembly's declaration on the Jews.

By overwhelming votes of 10 to 1, the prelates of the Roman Catholic Church adopted the first part of their document on the church's attitude toward non-Christians, including the Jews.

The voting brought approval to the first four sections of the document. These portions deal with Hindus, Buddhists and Moslems, and introduce the section on Jews.

Initial voting results made public did not concern the key portion of the schema holding that Jews as a whole cannot be blamed for the crucifixion of Christ.

But the first results showed that only a minority of council fathers had decided to reject the schema as a whole. Three conservative bishops circulated a memorandum in the council Wednesday asking such a rejection.

The three complained that the declaration's treatment of the Jews was unacceptable and that its references to other non-Christians were "insufficient or at least superficial."

The introduction on the section of the Jewish religion, saying there is a spiritual bond between Christians and Jews and urging "fraternal dialogues" between them, was approved 1,937 to 153.

The council also voted on the next portion of the schema which says: "Although the Jewish authorities and those who followed their lead pressed for the death of Christ (John 19, 6), nevertheless what happened to Christ in His Passion cannot be attributed to all Jews, without distinction, then alive, nor to the Jews of today."

Results of this vote were not announced since the council adjourned before the ballots were counted.

In its present version, the document leaves out the word "decide" in saying the Crucifixion cannot be blamed on all Jews of today or Christ's day. It also says the Church "deplores hatred, persecutions, displays of anti-Semitism."

It is regarded by many as weaker than a draft last year which included the word "decide" and said the Church "condemns hatred and persecution of Jews."

Some of the experts who drafted and revised the declaration said they felt many persons on both sides of the issue were using the word "decide" as an emotionally loaded catch phrase.

They said some members of the drafting commission wanted to leave the word in. They added that even without it, they considered the document to be a strong statement expressing the same idea — that the Jews as a whole cannot be blamed for the Crucifixion.

The new version will be adopted if two-thirds of the prelates vote in favor of it. If they do not, the old version will be reinstated and will become final.

The council last year approved initially the first draft by a majority of 9-1. The document has been revised four times on the basis of suggestions from the bishops.

The drafting commission incorporated 25 of 242 suggested changes.

Three conservative prelates Wednesday launched a last-minute drive to scrap the document.

Archbishop Marcel Lefebvre of France, Archbishop Geraldo de Proenca Sigaud of Brazil and Bishop Luigi Carli of Italy said the Gospels clearly show the Jewish people as "reproached" or "accursed."

Winds Up Week In Hospital

Johnson Discloses Tired Feeling, Schedule Empty

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson winds up a week in Bethesda Naval Hospital today, recuperating but feeling more tired than he thought he would be.

He had nothing on his schedule for the day. And Wednesday, like Tuesday, he had no official callers.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers reported Wednesday night that the President had "less pain and less strain" Wednesday. But Johnson confided to Moyers that he was more tired than he thought he would be.

Moyers said Johnson slept most of the afternoon and was "continuing to recover from his operation."

The President had dinner Wednesday night with Mrs. Johnson, daughter Luci and one of his secretaries, Miss Marie Fehmer.

During the evening, evangelist Billy Graham called and talked with Mrs. Johnson. He asked her to tell the President to take it easy. And he told the First Lady "Don't let him get back to work too soon."

Moyers said "My guess is that the President will continue to take advantage of this opportunity to rest and gain his strength and recover as rapidly as possible."

Johnson's doctors say he is recovering in excellent fashion from last Friday's surgery in which his gall bladder and a kidney stone were removed.

Dr. Willis Hurst, the President's heart specialist, left Wednesday for his Atlanta home — a further indication of the confidence Johnson's medical team has in his progress.

The President has been on a bland diet since intravenous feeding ended Monday.

Three members of the White House staff take turns at eight-hour shifts around the clock at the hospital. They are presidential assistants Marvin Watson, Jake Jacobsen and Jack Valenti.

East End Resurfacing Job Nears Completion

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry is nearing completion of blacktop resurfacing of Pennsylvania Ave., Elizabeth St. and Harvey Ave. from State St. to the state line.

Launched at the state line, the job now has moved westward to a point between Boyce St. and State St. The work went ahead rapidly Wednesday under sun, warm skies, a switch from the frequent rain that plagued the job at the outset.

With luck, the concern may complete the project today, Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said.

Action Urged For College, Tech School

LISBON — Action is expected from the Ohio Board of Regents Friday concerning plans for a proposed Columbiana County Community College for which 50 acres have been offered for a site between here and Columbiana.

The board of trustees of the college have requested the state board to consider incorporating a proposed technical institute with the college.

The Salem Technical School has asked the state board to create a Salem Technical Institute, which would be located near Salem, but the college board of trustees suggests the technical institute be incorporated with the college and more centrally located.

The trustees met Wednesday night to discuss plans for obtaining the college.

They reported they have "acquired by gift" 40 acres of land from Edwin Thomas and 10 acres from Wilbur Whan and have acquired options on 80 acres from Whan and three to 11 acres from Clyde Temple.

The some 130 acres are located with nearly a mile frontage along Route 164 and on Route 558, adjacent to the proposed right of way of Route 11.

South Viet Ranger Battalion Meets Stiff Resistance

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Heavy fighting broke out in the Mekong River delta during the night, and thousands of U.S. combat troops completed giant sweeps north of Saigon and in the central highlands, a U.S. military spokesman reported today.

The spokesman said a large government force suffered "moderate" casualties in the delta battle 95 miles southwest of Saigon, near Can Tho. The 44th Vietnamese ranger battalion met stiff resistance from an estimated 500 Viet Cong.

Vietnamese sources said 60 Viet Cong were killed in the fight, but U.S. authorities confirmed only seven dead.

The U.S. spokesman said the ranger battalion was reinforced by at least four other battalions, and they came under almost continuous fire during the night.

U.S. casualties in the action were described as light.

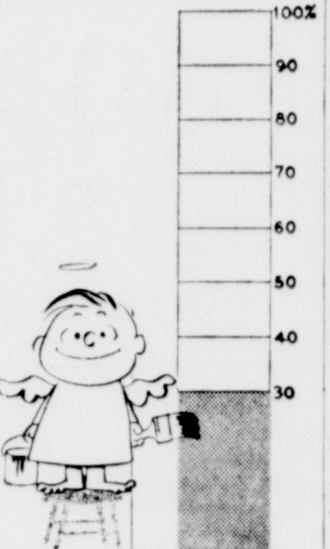

Remaining elements of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division, Airborne, encountered sporadic sniper fire Wednesday night as they ended their big operation in the central highlands and began withdrawing to their base camp at An Khe, 260 miles northeast of Saigon.

United Fund Lists $36,000 In Campaign

Some sizable industrial and business contributions to the East Liverpool Area United Fund have placed the campaign collections at $36,000 Richard Martin, chairman, announced today.

The annual campaign to assist 12 community service agencies is now past 30 per cent of the goal of $115,000, he added.

Some of the larger contributions so far include $5,750 from the Hall China Co., $2,300 each from the Potters Bank & Trust Co. and the Potters Savings & Loan Co., $2,300 from Patterson Industries and $1,150 from the Ohio Power Co.

Also, $575 has been contributed by both the YELP, Inc., trucking concern and the Cooper Insurance agency.

Martin said the work of the division leaders has begun in earnest and further reports are expected to push the drive to the halfway mark shortly.

Martin and Richard Emmerling, president of the UF, were scheduled to speak today to employees of the Travelers Hotel in line with the payroll deduction program of the UF.

The effectiveness and convenience of payroll deduction for supporting the agencies is being emphasized by division leaders in this year's campaign.

'Select Force' Training Will Be Stepped Up

150,000 National Guards, Reservists Due Twice Amount

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 150,000 Army National Guardsmen and reservists who will form a first line backup force for the regular Army are in for about twice as much training starting next month.

This became evident today from information provided by the Army on the extent of increased training planned for the "select force" whose 976 units were announced Wednesday.

The announcement said the Army Reserve will be represented by about twice as many men as originally projected for this highest priority force. But the National Guard will still dominate.

The force, drawn from all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, will include 31,000 Army reservists as against the 15,000 Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara listed on Sept. 30.

The National Guard segment will total 119,000 men, compared with 130,000 originally estimated.

The over-all force will be 5,000 more than McNamara announced.

Army officials denied that the increased Reserve participation

Daniels Quits Police Force At Wellsville

Patrolman Frank Daniels has submitted his resignation from the Wellsville Police Department, effective Saturday.

Chief John Hephner received the letter of resignation Wednesday.

Daniels joined the force June 16, 1962, after having served two years as an extra patrolman. In submitting his resignation, Daniels commented, "It has been a pleasure working with the department."

Hephner said that Daniels reported to him that he was leaving because of the low wages. A patrolman receives $357 a month.

Daniels has been working at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Hephner cited Daniels for his good work as an officer.

13 Cars Involved

2 Hurt When Fog Causes Collisions

A Glenmoor man and a district woman were injured in two of seven auto mishaps which occurred on the Beaver Creek hill area of the Smiths Ferry - Calcutta Rd. during thick fog this morning.

Gordon Griffin of Glenmoor was treated at City Hospital for bruises of the chest and legs suffered when his car was struck by another and knocked into a truck.

MISS PAT BROOKES of R.D. 3 was treated at the Crucible Steel Co. emergency hospital for injuries received in one of the crashes. She suffered bruises and abrasions of the lips and knee.

At least 13 vehicles were involved in the mishaps, which began about 7 a. m. on the highway leading downhill toward Route 68, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

The highway was closed about 8:15 p. m. by the patrol to prevent further crashes and to clear away the damaged autos.

Officers at Lisbon, who dispatched three cruisers to the scene, said apparently most of the mishaps involved eastbound cars of Crucible Steel workers headed for their jobs.

One report had it that a school bus halted and several cars piled up behind it. Other witnesses said the chain of mishaps began after one driver's car went into a ditch in the fog.

The Calcutta volunteer fire department was summoned to flush gasoline which spilled from damaged gas tanks.

First reports of the crashes began about 7 a. m. and shortly after 8 the patrol asked the East Liverpool and St. Clair Township police to halt eastbound traffic at Park Way and requested Midland police to stop westbound traffic at Route 68.

The patrol said original reports indicated as many as 25 to 30 autos were involved.

However, as the fog cleared and officers at the scene completed investigations, the total had dwindled, the patrol said.

Oct. 28-30 On The 'Mall'

Merchants Here Advance 'Harvest Festival' Plans

The East Liverpool Merchants Association moved ahead Wednesday with plans for a Home-town Harvest Festival Oct. 28-30, inclusive, centering on a "mall" that will be created by barring auto traffic from E. 5th St. between Broadway and Market St. during part of the event.

Emphasizing a harvest and Halloween theme, merchants will decorate their stores and the business places in a seasonal motif. The businessmen said all participating stores will offer special values in many lines during the three-day sales event.

THE PLANS for the program were advanced at a special meeting of ELMA members in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Council and the city administration already have granted the businessmen's group authority to close the 5th St. stretch to auto traffic from 6 p. m. Friday, Oct. 29, until 8 p. m. on Saturday, Oct. 30. The effect will be similar to the "mall" established in the same area about five years ago when new car models were on display, merchants said.

Special musical programs are being arranged for Thursday, Oct. 28, with detailed plans still pending.

On Friday night, Oct. 29, following the East Liverpool-Weirton football game at Patterson Field, the Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a street dance on the improvised "mall."

The Jaycee-ettes, comprised of wives of Jaycee members, will operate a refreshment stand.

The event will hit a day-long climax on Saturday, Oct. 30. Booths arranged by various civic organizations and other groups will line the 5th St. "mall," offering for sale refreshments, baked goods and

Disputed Pay Checks Given Home's Staff

Action Taken After Commissioners Lift Their Delay Order

LISBON — Climax of a long dispute, 14 County Home workers hired in mid-August and early September by former Supt. Russell Phillis received their first pay checks Wednesday.

For the 10 women hired in August, the checks were five and a half weeks late. The county's payday falls on the fifth day of each month.

The pay had been held up at the request of County Commissioners Frank C. Wilson and R. Max Gard, both Democrats, on the grounds that Phillis should not have hired the persons without consulting the commissioners and, according to law, had no right to set salaries.

The commissioners decided Wednesday to withdraw the pay holdup order given last month to County Auditor Kenneth Bell.

Bell also received a payroll approval from the State Department of Personnel, so he turned over the problem to Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis. The prosecutor, in turn, referred the question to Ohio Atty. Gen. William Saxbe.

Before issuing the checks Wednesday, the auditor said he asked and received clearance from Bettis. He said Bettis reported he acted "without rendering an opinion as to the law in this matter."

Bettis noted that the Personnel Department had approved the payroll and the commissioners had withdrawn their request to stop payment.

2 Get Terms In Prison For Payroll Case

PITTSBURGH — Two Beaver County men were sentenced here yesterday in Federal Court to four-year prison terms in a $5,500 payroll robbery.

They are Mason Holbrook, 31, of Industry and Leroy Kirchel, 27, of Beaver Falls.

They were convicted for the robbery of a McCalls Plumbing and Heating Co. truck delivering a payroll to its employees at the Babcocks and Wilcox Tube Co. plant in Koppel, Pa., on June 4.

Annual 'Guest Night'

Talent Parades
At BPW Meeting

The music and talents of the younger generation were spotlighted in the variety acts presented during the annual "Guest Night" observance Wednesday by the East Liverpool Business & Professional Women's Club at Mary Patterson Memorial. Approximately 150 guests and members attended.

With Mrs. Robert Wotring as mistress of ceremonies, the program was patterned after the Art Linkletter "Talent Scouts" and presented as a production of "Station B-P-W", with the "sponsor's products" being advertised as "laughter, smiles and goodwill".

LEADING THE parade of "scouts" was Mrs. L. W. Reed, chairman of the Club's Personal Development Committee which was in charge of the event. As "talent," she presented the "Melodettes", a group of 12 local high school girls, including Mary Comp, Barbara Rohrer, Cindy Butler, Nila Bertsch, Gay Bourne, Kathy McKinnon, Martha Stacey, Sue Conley, Jo Ann Chadwick, Sherri Johnston, Jackie Hopper and Glenda Little. They sang "Getting To Know You" and "If I Love You." They were accompanied at the piano by Valerie Wolfe, also a high school senior.

The second "scout," Miss Darlene Taylor, presented Miss Fran Vuyakovich, a 1964 graduate of Midland High School, in her specialty, a baton and strutting act.

Miss Vuyakovich has won 115 trophies in the last two years for her performances.

"Slow Down," "Satisfaction" and "Shaking All Over" were the three selections played by "The Lonely Ones," an instrumental combo, with Miss Vuyakovich joining the act for the last number. The group included Bill Galloway of the local high school on the drums and two Oak Glen students, Junior Harper on the rhythm guitar and Jim Kell on the lead guitar.

WITH A change of pace, the next "talent scout," Mrs. Richard Springer, presented Mrs. nevers.

John Brown, soprano, and Ernest Lowe, baritone, in duets from Jerome Kern's "Showboat" and other selections. "You Are Love" and "When Day Is Done" were among the presentations. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lowe.

The final act on the program was an exhibition of gymnastics on a "balance beam" by Miss Terry Sprague, a 1964 graduate of the local high school and a past president of the NIKE Club. She had musical accompaniment for her acrobatic maneuvers.

To open the program, Mrs. John Bebout, first vice president, welcomed the Club's guests and presented Superintendent of Schools Paul Blair, who addressed the group briefly on the purpose and need for the 3½-mill school tax levy on the November ballot. Blair distributed copies to the audience of the "Teachers' Salary Schedule" in 24 Ohio cities to illustrate what he termed the difficulty experienced by the East Liverpool school system in competing with higher-salaried districts for an adequate and qualified teaching staff.

MRS. BEBOUT also introduced Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, whose candidacy for re-election to the local Board of Education has been endorsed by the BPW Club. Mrs. Dunlop is a past president of BPW and of the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

At the conclusion of the program, guests were served refreshments by Mrs. Lawrence Sixt and her committee, including Mrs. John V. Reese, Mrs. Glenn Russell, Mrs. Ben Franklin Jr., Mrs. Robert Blatchford and Mrs. Paul McHenry.

Miss Joan Witt, President and Mrs. Bebout, vice president, poured from gold services at the buffet table decorated in BPW Federation "colors" of Green and gold. Covered with a fern-green cloth, the table was centered with an antiqued gold epergne filled with purple and green tokay grapes and two golden pheasant statuettes. Lighted shell candles, shaped as harvest-time vegetables, were centered on the various gold serving trays.

Special guests included Mrs. Robert Witt of Pittsburgh, mother of Miss Witt, and members of the local NIKE Club sponsored by the BPW.

and Vietnamese troops took part in the offensive that began last Sunday. These included 8,000 of the 1st Cavalry Division.

Thirty-four Viet Cong were reported killed and 100 suspects were captured. U.S. losses were described as light.

The spokesman said the number of dead Viet Cong "was not substantial" and it was apparent that the enemy had chosen to flee rather than fight. He said intelligence reports indicated a large Viet Cong force had been in the area.

But the air cavalry's commander, Maj. Gen. Harry Kinnard, said the operation was a success because it was more a measure of pacification than an attempt to kill large numbers of Viet Cong.

Kinnard said the area, the Suai Ca Valley 25 miles northeast of An Khe, had been brought under government influence for the first time since the war began.

Troops of the 173rd Airborne Brigade supported by Australian soldiers ended another big search operation in the Iron Triangle 30 miles northwest of Saigon. An Australian spokesman said Viet Cong fortifications in the area had been smashed.

Previously 84 Viet Cong had been reported killed and 115 captured in the jungle area on the fringe of the Viet Cong's Zone D.

B52 bombers from Guam hammered the 40-square-mile area twice before the operation was launched last week. The U.S. spokesman said the bombers devastated much of the terrain and damaged or destroyed 15 huts used by the Viet Cong.

The fourth B52 raid in one week was made in the area today, but there was no assessment of damage.

Water Crew Repairs

Dixonville Line Break

A city water department crew completed repairs quickly Wednesday on a broken 6-inch main on Anderson Blvd. at Adler St. which had left the Dixonville area without service. Supt. Donald T. Duke said today.

Water service was turned off for about 30 minutes while the repair was in progress. However, some residents of Dixonville complained they were without service beginning at approximately 1 a. m.

The turn-off was made at Anderson Blvd. and Park Way. Duke said the crew found a hole in the line, closing it with a repair clamp. The repair was finished before noon yesterday.

Castro Issues Message Of Defiance To Moscow

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Fidel Castro, badgered by internal political and economic problems, has issued a message of defiance to Moscow: Help us but don't try to dominate us; don't try to prevent us from taking risks to foment revolution in Latin America.

Castro wants more Soviet arms and wants to be the sole judge of what to do with those arms, his words indicate. His tone suggests he is running into an argument in Moscow.

A copy of the new paper Granma, "organ of the Central Committee of the Communist party of Cuba," has reached this country with the text of a Castro speech to the committee. This was the speech in which he paid tribute to Ernesto Guevara, his long-time guerrilla war expert.

Generally overlooked was Castro's florid peroration, obviously directed to Moscow, where at this moment Maj. Raul Castro, Fidel's brother, supposedly is seeking more arms from Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

The passage suggests that Moscow has twisted Castro's arm. It indicates Moscow wants no more risks of nuclear showdown occasioned by Castro adventuring — that Moscow wants to call the shots in Latin America on Communist-inspired revolution.

Castro, though begging help, still objects strenuously. He wants to run the Latin-American revolution — and his own Cuban revolution — in his own way.

He wants Red revolution without Moscow dictation, but with Moscow support.

Here's how Castro put it:

"We know quite well where the enemy is. In order to defeat the aggressive policy of that enemy, to continue to oppose it, we need the resources and weapons, because here, thousands of miles away from any other Socialist country, thousands of miles away without being able to depend on anything other than our own forces and our own weapons, we are aware of the risks we are running today and will continue to run. We must be armed to the teeth and totally prepared."

That is the challenge to the Soviet Union. Castro wants more arms if he is to carry the revolutionary banner in Latin America. But he wants arms without strings. Let the rest of the Communist world quarrel, but let him go his own way.

"We can disagree with any party on any point," said Castro. He added that he refused to view communism as a church "with its Rome and its Ecumenical Council." Castro announced he will develop his own revolutionary program. And he will continue to be friendly to both sides in the Soviet-Chinese dispute.

"What we will never do," he said, "is to insult with one hand and ask with another, and we will know how to maintain any disagreement within the norms of decency, with any party. We will know how to be friends with those who know how to be friends. We will know how to respect those who respect us. We will never ask anyone's permission to do anything. We will never ask anyone's permission to go anywhere. We will never ask permission of anyone to be the friends of any party or any country.

"We aspire to a Communist society, but also to a Communist world in which all nations will have equal rights. We aspire to a Communist world in which no nation will have the right to veto."

Castro obviously has been annoyed by the Russians, who took away his missile bases in the terrifying showdown between Nikita S. Khrushchev and the late President John F. Kennedy. Moscow apparently has drawn the reins on his schemes, fearful of new showdowns. Perhaps the Russians even had a hand in stifling Castro ambitions in the Dominican Republic.

It is clear, at any rate, that the Russians, who spend almost half a billion dollars annually to sustain Castro's defense and economy, have pressed him to bring some order out of his revolution. One result has been turning over the direction of the country to a 100-man party directorate in Cuba.

Castro was highly emotional in his address. He read an alleged letter from Guevara resigning citizenship and all posts in Cuba. It read almost like a self-written obituary. There is a strong suspicion that, prodded by the Russians, Castro had to clash with Guevara on theoretical problems of revolution in Latin America. At any rate, Guevara is gone, and Castro, still needing help, has nowhere to look but Moscow. That seems to be what annoys him most.

Many Ocean 'Secrets' To Be Known By 1970

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — By 1970, an underwater research expert says, man will know some regions of the now-mysterious ocean better than he knows many wilderness areas on the surface.

The forecast comes from a former submariner and scientist recently named to handle the industrial end of a five-year Navy program called DSSP—for Deep Submergence Systems Project.

"The technology that has enabled men to probe far into outer space also has brought new capability in inner space," says retired Capt. Arthur Krapf, former director of the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D.C.

"Inner space, the millions of cubic miles of salt water that cover seven-tenths of the earth's surface, holds riches which have teased man's imagination ever since he learned to swim. It also has great military use and may even be our medium of survival someday."

The initial goals of DSSP are threefold: To learn how to rescue men from as far down as submarines can go without being crushed; to salvage ships, aircraft and objects from space at depths to 6,000 feet; and to conduct military and scientific research down to 20,000 feet.

"The goals are expandable," said Krapf, "but for the time being we'll settle for exploration down to four miles—98 per cent of the ocean is above that level."

"Compared to the multibillion-dollar space effort, our funding is small—less than $300 million. In the long run, however, this project could accomplish more for the nation and humanity in defending against underwater attack, finding new food and mineral resources, and opening a haven from nuclear bombardment."

Prime management contract for DSSP went to an aerospace firm, Northrop Corp., which had to agree not to build any hardware but merely provide technical assistance. Krapf, with his familiarity with Navy needs, was picked to head the Northrop effort.

He draws a graphic picture of what the Navy will be able to do by 1970:

"Let's suppose a large nuclear submarine has gone to the bottom with all hands aboard. She's too deep for the men to be rescued with scuba gear, so how do we save them?"

"First, we load a deep submergence rescue vehicle in a transport and fly to the closest land base. There the vehicle is transferred to the deck of a large submarine, which carries it piggyback to the disaster site."

"The vehicle pulls away from the mother vessel and locks onto an escape hatch on the bottomed sub. The vehicle with a two-man crew and a hold for 10 or 12 others, carries the survivors back to the mother sub."

"After depositing the last of the survivors, it goes back to the scene to hunt for debris. Whatever it finds it picks up with extendable mechanical arms and stores it aboard for later study by experts seeking clues to the cause of the disaster."

Lebanon's climate is typically Mediterranean, resembling that of Southern California.

MONSTROUS DINNER GUEST. The Shalimar restaurant in Burlingame, Calif., used to serving diners for many years, became the food itself recently when it was eaten by the iron teeth of progress.

Yale Map 'Proves' Buddhist Priest Here In 499

By TOM HENSHAW

NEW YORK (AP) — I don't think anyone has noticed it yet but that 15th century map that has Yale University and the Italian Historical Society flinging scholarly stiletos at each other actually proves them both wrong.

Christopher Columbus did not discover America. But neither did Leif Ericsson and his Vikings as the Yalies say their map shows.

On the far right of the map, between what appears to be China and what could be Japan, is the notation: "The Tartars affirm beyond doubt that a new land is situated in the outermost parts of the world."

It doesn't say how the Tartars knew about it.

But I know.

Hoel-shin told them.

And Hoel-shin, as any connoisseur of 5th century Chinese yearbooks can tell you or Yale or the Italian Historical Society, was the Buddhist priest who discovered America in the year 499.

I kid you not.

It is so recorded that, in the last year of the 5th century, Hoel-shin visited a country called Fusang which he pinpointed for future travelers as lying 15,000 li east of Tahan.

Unfortunately, the precise value of the li in 499 was not handed down with the story and Tahan is mythical.

Anyway, Hoel-shin must have had himself a ball.

He fell among peace-loving people who had been converted to Buddhism by five beggar monks 29 years before. They had no weapons but a lot of gold and silver which they treated with contempt.

They were ruled by a king called the Ichi who, for some apparently religious reason, changed the color of his clothes every two years for a cycle of 10 years. The color, not his clothes.

Their proudest possession was a tree bamboo-like shoots of which provided food, its red fruit kept a whole year without refrigeration, and its bark could be made into linen and paper.

In case you think you have noticed a resemblance between Fusang and the Mexico of the Aztecs or the Peru of the Incas, then you're in a similar boat to Columbus. Somebody beat you to it 90 years ago.

But, now that Yale and its map have proved beyond doubt that Hoel-shin discovered America in 499, we who prefer our speculation undiluted by fact must turn elsewhere for the real discoverer of the New World.

Maybe it was the Romans in the 1st century, else why would a bronze cup resembling one found in the ruins of Pompeii turn up under 18 inches of topsoil by the Roanoke River in Virginia?

Or perhaps it was the Phoenixians as early as the 5th century B.C., else why would the image of one of their ships be carved on a rock in Middleboro, Mass., and their Semitic alphabet on stones in Mechanicsburg, Pa?

Okay, Yale, let's see how you handle that one.

Odd Facts

When sweaters or heavy socks become unraveled, save the thread. It comes in handy in the tacking of quilts made from scraps. The yarn also is good for woolen coverlets. To straighten such a yarn, wrap it around a piece of cardboard, drop cardboard and yarn in luke warm water until yarn is thoroughly wet. Let dry and yarn will be straight.

Make your own clothes? Buy three scatter pins just alike, preferably round ones of simple design. Instead of making button holes and sewing buttons on those nice woolen dresses that button to the waist, just use pins down the front spaced at equal intervals. They are all the jewelry you will need if good taste is selected in buying the pins.

Prize-Winning Time Again

The Swedish Academy of Literature will announce on Friday the name of the recipient of the 1965 winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature.

The Swedish Academy of Literature continues to baffle the world with odd choices of writers. More than 90 candidates are competing. In the past, lists of candidates never have exceeded 80.

For the five years up to 1964, the Swedish Academy's choice of Nobel Literature laureates had been so curious there even was grumbling in Sweden.

The prize-winners were, as partly listed by the Washington Post: "Salvatore Quasimodo (1959), an Italian best known for winning a Nobel Prize; Alexis Leger (1960), a French poet who lives in Washington; Ivo Andric (1961), a Yugoslav writer well known in Yugoslavia; John Steinbeck (1962) who creditably expressed surprise at his own victory, and Giorgos Seferis, a Greek poet of monumental obscurity."

The academy has been generous to the United States, six of whose writers have received the Nobel blessing. But Robert Frost was allowed to go to his grave without it, and Carl Sandburg, though in 1949 a leading contender, has not been named.

France leads the "Nobel league" with 11 literature prizes. Britain shares the runner-up position with the United States.

The list of eligibles passed over since the first prize was awarded to Rene F. A. Sully Prudhomme in 1901 would fill a choice library. They would include Chekhov, Conrad, Gorky, Hardy, Joyce, Lorca, Meredith, Proust, Rike, Tolstoi, Twain and Zola.

In more recent years, the Academy has ignored the claims of Malreaux, Edmund Wilson, Alan Paton, Robert Graves, and Alberto Moravia.

Under the terms of the will of Alfred Nobel, Swedish chemist and engineer who died in December 1896, the bulk of his $9 million fortune was placed in trust for five prizes to be awarded annually without distinction of nationality. The best known of these awards is the so-called "Peace Prize" given to the person or organization rendering the greatest service to the cause of international brotherhood, in the suppression or reduction of standing armies, or in the establishment or furtherance of peace congresses. The Literature prize is now worth about $45,000.

The Swedish Academy in 1964 surprised the world of literature by coming up with a writer who ranked with the best of its previous choices — Jean-Paul Sartre of France.

Thereupon, Sartre, a man of fierce intellectual probity and independence, though by his own testimony sympathetic to "what one calls the Eastern (European) bloc," promptly turned it down.

Just Who Did Discover America?

The donnybrook between Yale University and Italian-Americans over the university's claimed evidence that Leif Ericson discovered America before Christopher Columbus got here can rage for decades.

Those of us destined to be spectators and not participants can do nothing but make ourselves comfortable and enjoy the contest.

It may turn out that before it's over that some of us will have latched on to a thought that has been flitting in and out of our awareness like a ghost ever since we first learned Christopher Columbus did not actually "discover" America. Neither did Leif Ericson or anyone else.

They never set foot on the Atlantic seaboard and said, "I have discovered America."

They did not know where their feet were.

No one claims to know exactly where their feet were, either, except that they were not on the soil of the mainland.

The 14B Repealer Is Shelved

Senate majority leader Mansfield's decision to put the 14B repeal proposal on the shelf is being called a defeat for organized labor.

That is putting it in a light it doesn't deserve. Organized labor had nothing to gain from the repeal of 14B, except a shaky moral victory.

The 19 states that bar labor contracts making union membership compulsory are not industrially important. In states, like Ohio, where voters agreed in a showdown in 1958, that such contracts shouldn't be barred, unions have everything they want. They don't need repeal of 14B. They have lost nothing, except the illusion they could bulldoze Congress.

In political perspective, rank-and-file unionists can be thankful their leadership has been either 14B or the Taft-Hartley Act, in which 14B happens to be an obscure clause.

If union leadership had been able to force through these proposals, the union movement would have been put on the defensive with the people of the United States and their representatives and senators in Congress.

There would have had to be piecemeal attempts to regulate organized labor, like piecemeal attempts to regulate organized business. At any time in any session of Congress or in any session of any state legislature, a legislative proposal might have flared up that would have been odious to organized labor.

But with a federal law as a general guide and state laws patterned after it, legislators and their constituents have been reasonably certain in their minds that matters were under reasonably good control as far as organized labor was concerned.

They were under no pressure to think up piecemeal laws every whipsnatch to cope with current provocations and aggravations.

The proposal to get rid of 14B has been put on the shelf. It should be kept there, along with now dusty proposals to repeal the entire Taft-Hartley Act.

A Good Look At Morrissey

Admirers of President Johnson's political eagerness wonder how he could have been conned into appointing Boston Municipal Court Judge Francis X. Morrissey to the federal bench. It looks like a real bloop.

The appointee by his own account got his license to practice under circumstances that had members of a Senate subcommittee swallowing hard when they called him in for questioning.

He went to Georgia after failing the bar examination in Massachusetts, took a quickie course that put him into law business in that unparticular state, then returned to Massachusetts, failed another examination and proceeded in his subsequent career to convince his associates he was one of the world's finest individuals and poorest lawyers. No one has a good word to say for him as a learned counsel.

In short, Mr. Morrissey has no known qualifications to sit on the federal bench. If it were not for close friendship with the influential Kennedy family, he never would have been considered for such an appointment.

So why would anyone as politically cagey as President Johnson make the mistake of sending over an appointment that would leave the Senate aghast?

Couldn't it have occurred to a Texan whose sensitive Southern exposure was fried to a crisp by the Massachusetts Kennedys a few years back that letting the country take a good look at one of their closest friends would be almost as much fun as inviting Hubert Humphrey to the LBJ ranch for a horseback ride?

Remember that picture of the vice president on a horse?

The picture of Francis X. Morrissey on the federal bench wouldn't be half as funny, but it would be twice as incongruous.

By Truman Twill

tools. They had a feeling for solid construction and the know-how to do a workmanlike job.

Masons could lay up a wall without straying off the perpendicular.

Plasterers could keep the inside dimensions of a closed space in plumb while laying about them with trowelfuls of wet mud.

Plumbers could make things work where lesser men would create a problem.

And so on with all crafts and arts.

The great inventors and artisans didn't go to school and pile up points for accreditation, because there were no schools to go to anyway. And besides they didn't have time. They did it by doing.

And as I said at the beginning of this introduction, it bothers me to hear that someone has been crowded out of a career of usefulness for lack of formal education or some other variety of fumadiddle that actually had no bearing whatever on his capacity for dealing with the problems of a particular racket.

Or to say it the other way around, it scares the freckles off me to realize that we take it for granted a so-and-so is competent because of having gone through certain routines in a classroom. It just ain't so.

No Formal Training

I am bothered when people are barred from doing things they can do well for no better reason than lack of formal training.

My father was one of those born geniuses who knew how to do things without needing to be taught. He had native know-how. This country used to be full of people like him.

They built a civilization with knowledge they were born with. They did everything that needed to be done and never had a lesson in their lives. They knew nothing about vocational training. They learned by doing things for themselves.

As life became more complex the same native know-how was applied at higher levels. Men became lawyers by reading law alongside older lawyers—by keeping their eyes and ears open.

Men learned the practice of medicine by breaking in under the tutelage of a doctor who already knew how to set bones and reduce swellings, because he had learned his art under someone else who had learned it the hard way, too.

School teachers qualified to do business with a willow switch and a roomful of incorrigibles by showing up for work with enough courage to wear down the opposition.

It went that way all down the line.

As Bad As Old Mother Hubbard

U.S. Employment Picture Brightens

By Victor Riesel

Nightmare-mongers are the "in" professionals of the day.

Their grim predictions of long breadlines of tattered men edging up to skidrow soup kitchens are the sophisticated conversation pieces of the hour.

Their target is the automation business. Their Mephistopheles is the computer. But it keeps disappointing them and they may need to get themselves a new gloom - doom profession.

For example, if the Labor Department's newest statistics were realistically and frankly analyzed they would reveal that there are fewer persons unemployed today than ever before in modern peacetime history. Yet there are a swiftly increasing number — in the tens of thousands — of electronic brain machines.

Just about two years ago, at the last AFL-CIO national convention, there were 3.8 million unemployed. Automation was charged with being a curse and a job destroyer.

Yet today, as the national labor organization leaders plan for their next biennial convention in December, there are 2.8 million jobless. This is a decrease of virtually exactly one million jobs.

But that's not the full story. Most of today's unemployed are "frictional." This means they have been looking for jobs for a comparatively short period (though to be out of a job even for a week is a long time by my reckoning).

THE FIGURES show that there are one million persons who actually have been out long enough to be put in the "continued compensation" class. They include the unskilled, the unlettered, the illiterate. Their misfortunes are the responsibility of society — but they are not down on their luck because of automation.

Actually the brain - machine business has made jobs — about 1.5 million of them — brand new ones in the cybernetics field itself.

Look, for example, at General Electric's experience. In 1956 it's new computer division set up shop in a small office in Phoenix. Fifty persons were employed. Today the division with installations in Phoenix and Oklahoma City employs 8,000 persons and that's just one company.

GE, some years ago, devised the "Time-Sharing" computer operation for Dartmouth College students. Now several firms can share the same computer without learning each other's secrets. Soon it will be as standard as air conditioning.

Sharing cuts costs. Today (as of July 1) there are 25,000 computers. Compare this with just the few dozen in use during the early '50s.

I would like to express openly just how wonderful the band members of East Liverpool were to invite the Newton Falls band members to stay overnight previous to the East Liverpool-Newton Falls football game Oct. 8.

I myself have four girls in the Newton Falls band and have heard nothing but praise over how very nice all the people were. It is hard for a mother to decide to let them go to a stranger's home, but I am glad now they went. I don't think this will be forgotten for a long time.

The girl's uncle, who drove one of the school buses, and the other drivers said all the people were most thoughtful and it seemed that they went out of their way to be nice. East Liverpool can very well be proud of all its band members. Thank you all for being so very hospitable from all the members of the Newton Falls band.

An extra thanks for the meals the band director furnished some of the members and to the person who provided the beautiful flowers.

We would like, through The Review, to thank each and everyone who helped in the search for our small son last Sunday evening.

We would like to thank the Wellsville Volunteer Fire Department, the West Point Volunteer Fire Department, the Sheriff's office, the citizen band radio operators and many others, including Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson.

And we shall never forget to thank God for the happy ending to a horrifying experience.

THE DATA PROCESSING industry alone employs one million persons compared with some 200,000 in 1947. Thomas J. Watson, Jr., chief executive officer of the International Business Machines Corp., disclosed recently.

He predicted this employment would probably grow to two million in the next five years.

Noting that there are 800 "check-sensing systems" in American banks today, Mr. Watson warned that 20 billion checks would flood American banks annually by 1970. Without automatic machinery the money houses would have to hire every woman between 21 and 45 years of age to prevent chaos.

This is true, too, of America's telephone industry. As it is, there is record bank and communications employment.

Mr. Watson also predicted a vast electronic society hooking banks to stores, gas stations, etc., which will operate on a card system. This will create a cashless society — and scores of thousands of new jobs.

THIS IS TRUE in industry after industry unrelated to space shoots and war impulses. The commercial airlines, for example, report they will need another 50,000 employees in the next four years.

The steel, auto and transport union (except for those on the rails) report their strongest years. Conferences are being held to plan for the search of skilled and semi-skilled men. Yet the nightmare-mongers still cry aloud.

One of labor's most literate spokesmen, reflecting on the anguish of his own colleagues, asked the other day when he examined the newest employment statistics:

"How did it all happen? Why did not our researchers know of it? Why did they not anticipate this? How can you trust their judgment when next they come up with data for a speech of national import and which will draw world attention?"

Perhaps they all should heed the words of Tom Watson.

He calls for a responsible dissemination of facts. "... the greatest source of fear is ignorance," he said not too long ago. "A tiny candle gives misleading light and throws huge and ominous shadows. The sun at noon gives great light and throws no shadows."

"It's time to get this whole problem of men and machines under a blazing noonday beam ... I should like to see universities bring together in courses or conferences groups of scientists and journalists, to build a bridge between the world of the scientific expert and the world of the common man — to convert the words of the expert into the words of the layman."

Let's include the nightmare-mongers.

Missile Farming

PARIS

France has started digging 30 underground silos for medium range ballistic missiles. The missiles are to have a range between 1,800 and 2,500 miles, enough to cover most major targets in European Russia.

Some of the "Minuteman-type" rockets are said to have been built but not yet tested. The French think that they can be fully operational in one to two years. The long-range military budget provides for 25 missiles by 1970.

The solid fuel rockets will be the "second generation" of France's nuclear strike force. The "first generation" is made up of low-flying supersonic Mirage-4 jet bombers with atomic bombs.

There are between 32 and 36 planes operational with one-third of them on 24-hour alert. Recent reports that some are airborne at all times are inaccurate. There are no present plans for such an arrangement.

Starting in 1969, the missiles will be complemented by a "third generation" of Polaris-like missiles fired from nuclear submarines. The missile warheads will at first consist of 250 kiloton atomic bombs and gradually be replaced with hydrogen bombs.

The silos are being dug in the Vauluse region of Provence in southern France. The inhabitants are said to be growing increasingly anxious over the concentration of France's nuclear installations there. They welcomed the economic boost they got from the Pierre-latte, Marcoule and Cadarache atomic plants, but now feel that further concentration is turning the region into a prime target area.

In a demonstration of French military technology before the Dec. 5 presidential election, the government is planning to orbit its first satellite at the end of November with a three-stage Diamond rocket shot from the Sahara desert.

U.S. Intervention

By David Lawrence

Decision Rests With Military

Mistaken concepts of appeasement and the indifference of peoples in the principal countries of the world to the facts of international intrigue have been responsible for two world wars in this century and many major wars in past history.

Yet there are men in the Congress of the United States today who are the victims of the same erroneous thinking as the danger of war continues.

There is also relatively little attention, for example, being paid to an unresolved problem — just when the United States should intervene in a menacing situation inside a Latin-American country. Critics are heard that the United States should never intervene unless a group of Latin-American countries advises it.

The survival of the United States is dependent on sound military policy — not on what its prestige might conceivably be if any move is made which critics in some countries to the south of us might charge is "aggressive."

The decision as to when to intervene in Latin America to protect the safety of the United States turns primarily on military rather than prestige considerations.

THE UNITED STATES was lucky to emerge successfully from the Cuban missile crisis, but the fact remains that a powerful European nation did land technicians and troops 90 miles from our shores and did build missile bases from which weapons could be fired to kill millions of American citizens living peacefully on their own territory.

The Dominican Republic — scene of a recent military intervention by the United States — is not much farther away than Cuba and could have become a Soviet base, too.

How can such crises be prevented in the future? By the simple rules of military discipline. The United States, ever since the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed, has insisted that no European power would be permitted to obtain a foothold in this hemisphere. The objective still remains, but opinions differ as to how it should be attained.

One school of thought believes that the Organization of American States should be consulted first and that it should authorize any future intervention by military power.

Another school of thought sees in such a procedure a big risk. For it can mean delay and eventually no action, because politically motivated governments, influenced sometimes by Communist infiltrators, can block the taking of immediate steps, and this could be fatal. Military minds follow the maxim which says "it's better to be safe than sorry."

THE UNITED STATES might consult the other powers if there is time, but it must be the sole judge of whether such a delay would be to take unilateral action no matter what the weaker states, inspired by fear or by internal politics, might say in disapproval.

The Congress of the United States has been debating the wisdom of a clear-cut resolution on the subject. A declaration recently made by the House of Representatives has brought a backlash of criticism from those members who give undue weight to cries of "hurt prestige" for this country in other parts of the hemisphere. Yet absolute protection of the American people against any kind of military attack is paramount.

War is not a diplomatic dialogue. Nor can there be dependence on any paper alliance which does not possess military strength of sufficient power to operate as a deterrent against an enemy.

THE ORGANIZATION of American States is a diplomatic apparatus and not a military force. It can supply token armies or navies but without the military power of the United States, it cannot have any deterrent effect on Communist imperialism.

So the main responsibility rests with this country. The sooner Congress makes clear by resolution that no missile-base building will be tolerated and that no foreign power will be allowed to set up a base which could be used to destroy free government in any country in this hemisphere, the quicker will it be understood by all that a United States force will be brought into action in emergencies with or without the advice of Latin-American governments.

It's a practical rather than a theoretical problem and it can be met only with realism. To agree in advance to a formula of delay that could be fatal is not in the interests of peace for this country or for the world.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — These are among the features retained in some of the new automobiles placed on display here: "Metered flow of lubrication, cross-flow cooling, silver-cadmium bearings, electro-plated pistons, rifle-drilled connecting rods, square bore and stroke and ample engine durability."

A local delegation was among those attending the two-day convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association at Wheeling.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Review headlines announced the execution of Pierre Laval as a traitor to France after he failed in a suicide attempt by swallowing poison.

TEN YEARS AGO — Charles A. Schell, past president of the Kiwanis Club here, was elected lieutenant governor of the 15th District during the Ohio convention at Dayton.

Thieves who broke into the Avalon Restaurant at Hanoverton apparently went away both hungry and penniless. "Hardly anything was taken," Richard Garlock, the manager said.

Police Probe Home Thefts At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Police Chief Ray Keister today continued investigation of two recent enterings in which $773 in cash plus jewelry and $800 worth of antiques were taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewis of 118 Thomas St. reported Tuesday someone had entered their home and stolen the money from a china cupboard and taken a set of wedding rings, an onyx ring and a black pearl ring.

They said they discovered the loss Tuesday. The last time they had seen the items was Oct. 5, Chief Keister said.

The money — in $20, $10, $5 and $1 bills — was in a bag and tin can.

Keister also is investigating the theft of antique lamps and other items from the home of Mrs. Frances Dunbar of Route 644 in the northwest part of the village.

While Mrs. Dunbar was visiting relatives at Akron Oct. 2-9, thieves entered her home and removed a "Gone With the Wind" lamp, other antique lamps and items and a radio.

Front Wheel Falls Off Car, Woman Hurt

A Wellsville mother was hospitalized and two of her children shaken when their small car rammed an embankment along Kountz Ave. near Wellsville after a front wheel came off Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Linda Lucas, 26, of 1519 Clark Ave., Wellsville, was in "good" condition at City Hospital with possible back and rib injuries suffered in the mishap at 1 p. m. about a half-mile north of the East Liverpool-Wellsville highway.

Sherrie Pritchett, her daughter, was treated for a bruised head and Alicia Pritchett, another daughter, was examined and released.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mrs. Lucas applied the brakes and the right front wheel came off, the auto veering off the highway and striking the embankment.

Richard Brand, 33, of 211 6th Ave., LaCroft, was cited after his car and another collided on Route 30 on the Cannons Mills hill about 2:45 p. m.

Officers said his car struck the rear of another operated by Thomas Garlando, 27, of Akron after both autos had stopped and proceeded forward again. Brand was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Eugene Webster, 18, of Salineville R.D. 3 was cited on a similar charge after his car veered off Route 39 in front of the Southern Local High School at 1:10 p. m. and hit some mail boxes and a culvert.

The patrol said Webster was headed west and came upon a vehicle making a left turn and swerved to avoid a crash.

Hancock Gets 128 'Stamps'

A total of 128 federal retail liquor "licenses" have been sold to Hancock County dealers out of 771 sold throughout West Virginia, according to records at the Internal Revenue Service's district office in Parkersburg.

The Northern Panhandle accounted for nearly 60 per cent of the stamps. The totals in the other counties include Ohio, 181; Marshall, 33, and Brooke, 61.

A breakdown showed 467 clubs and individuals purchased "retail liquor dealer" stamps and 304 others bought stamps as "retail dealers in wine and beer." The stamps cost $54 each and entitle the holder to sell alcoholic beverages of all types without federal interference.

However, the stamps afford no protection against state prosecution. Liquor can be sold legally only at 134 state package stores and 12 liquor agencies.

Retail dealers who sell only beer also are required to buy a federal stamp costing $24.

Shaw Given New Term In Presidency Of CIC

George A. Shaw, publisher and business manager of The Review, was elected Wednesday night to a second term as president of the Community Improvement Corp., an area organization devoted primarily to encouraging new industries to locate in the East Liverpool district and aiding existing firms in growth and development.

At its annual meeting in the Ohio Valley Gas Co. offices, the CIC also returned all other officers: Ralph A. Finley, vice president; E. R. Chandler, secretary, and Ben H. Berman, treasurer.

The election of officers came at a reorganization meeting of the Board of Trustees after seven had been elected to the board.

Named as trustees were: David E. Beatty of the Potters Construction Co.; Joseph D. Coons of radio station WOHI; Dr. John A. Fraser; William D. Ogilvie of D. M. Ogilvie & Co.; Jackman Vodrey, East Liverpool attorney; Elmer Robinson, president of Trades and Labor Council, and Berman.

Robinson becomes the labor representative on the board, taking the seat of James Moss, whose term expired.

The trustees also elected two members to the board to fill prior vacancies. They named Stephen Eibling of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and Dayton Allen, operator of a Washington St. shoe store.

The retiring trustees are Alvin T. Babb, Stanley T. Hilbert, William E. Kaiser, A. C. Purinton Jr., W. E. Williams and Shaw.

Officers gave reports on the year's activities. Reports also were presented by committees working on industrial prospects, establishment of a county airport and acquisition of property for a new East Liverpool Post Office.

Eisenhower's 75 Today, A Busy And Happy Man

By RELMAN MORIN

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower celebrates his 75th birthday today, a busy, happy, forward-looking man.

He prepared to spend it in Phoenixville, playing with his four grandchildren.

In his office in Gettysburg, Pa., secretaries struggled to handle an avalanche of birthday messages and telegrams. They have been pouring in at the rate of about 500 a day since last weekend.

In 19 cities, from Juneau, Alaska, to Atlanta, Ga., thousands of Republicans bought fund-raising tickets to "happy birthday" dinners.

And in New York City, two aides, Brig. Gen. (ret.) Robert L. Scholz and Sgt. John Moaney, set up a surprise. Eisenhower spent the night in the Biltmore Hotel.

Unknown to him, his aides taped some of his favorite Army songs, played by the U.S. Army Band and sung by the U.S. Army Chorus. The songs included "Dog Face Soldier," "The Corps," anthem of the U.S. Military Academy, and some marching songs.

"We're going to wake him up on his birthday with the music," Scholz said.

Gen. Schulz surprised the former President and Mrs. Eisenhower by playing the tape as they had breakfast in the suite.

Eisenhower "greatly appreciated the thought," the aide said.

Schulz said the taped tribute was the U.S. Army Band's idea. The band is headquartered in Fort Myers, Va.

Through the past week, Eisenhower swirled through a crowded calendar of appointments. He laughed, kidded himself, related anecdotes. His eyes sparkled and the famous grin broke out like a sunburst.

A reporter said, "Mr. President, a man who knows you very well said he has never seen you looking so alert."

"He must be getting old, too," Eisenhower replied.

Another asked what advice he would give people at 75. Musing, Eisenhower said, "Well, you know, they say in Washington a politician out of office becomes a statesman."

"But you were never defeated," the reporter noted.

"So maybe I'm not a statesman," Eisenhower said.

He looks ahead to the future in several fields.

He is working on another book, "sort of personal reminiscences." But he says, "It is quite clear that I'm not a writer. I'm a hack. I don't pretend to have a style. I just report the things that came to my personal attention."

Eisenhower indicates that he may be more explicit about his

Midland Yule Plans Pushed

Plans for the annual Christmas program were made by the Midland Chamber of Commerce Wednesday during a meeting at the McGeehan Agency.

Included in the plans are a parade, street decorations, treats for the children and prizes for home decorations. The Chamber authorized funds of $100 to be distributed for parade prizes.

A letter was approved and sent to Midland Council requesting additional brackets for light decorations on the utility poles.

The Chamber is seeking volunteers to help repaint and rewire the light brackets. Volunteers are to report at the McGeehan Agency Oct. 24 at 10 a. m.

Ernie D'Angelo was appointed to a board of directors post, filling the vacancy left by Earl Harris.

Lester Smith was authorized to arrange a social for the Chamber in November.

In other business, the junior class of Lincoln High School was granted permission to use the Chamber of Commerce hay wagon as a float for the Homecoming Parade.

A letter will be sent to the Pennsylvania Department on Highways requesting additional road signs directing travelers to Midland. Two junctions which need the signs are Kennedy's Corners on Route 18, east of Shippingport, and Routes 18 and 30 at Hillendale, the Chamber said.

The Chamber discussed several complaints about the numerous tag days that are held on Crucible Steel paydays. This problem was filed for further study.

The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA) has more than 30,000 members in 650 chapters in the U.S. and Canada.

Odd Facts

You can turn an old cardigan sweater for your little daughter into one that she considers a practically new one with a little trim. When buying material for her next new dress, buy cloth that matches her old sweater. Purchase enough of it to sew a narrow piece of it as trim around the neck and a wider strip down the front. Work buttonholes and sew buttons back on.

'66 CAPRICE

BY CHEVROLET

Caprice Custom Coupe—with exclusive formal roof line that comes on no other Chevrolet.

Caprice Custom Sedan—with superb new Body by Fisher elegance inside and out.

Caprice Custom Wagon—with fine new look of hard-wood paneling on sides and tailgate.

A new choice of superbly crafted Chevrolets above and beyond anything else in the line. If this is your year to move up, you just can't move up to much more car than this.

Everything it takes to create a distinguished luxury car has gone into these new Caprices.

Beneath the formal styling elegance that sets the Custom Coupe apart, for instance, you'll find the richness of thick wall-to-wall carpeting, comfort-contoured seats and the look of hand-rubbed walnut on the instrument panel, glove compartment and inside door panels.

They're custom cars in every sense. In the Custom Coupe, you can order a finely instrumented console, together with new Strato-bucket front seats. In the Custom Sedan, a new Strato-back front seat is available with bucket-type contours separated by a fold-down armrest. And in the equally opulent Custom Wagons, offered in 2- or 3-seat models, you can even order carpeting for the cargo area.

Each model, with its own specially tailored suspension refinements, rides super Jet-smooth. And for incomparably smooth power, you can specify Chevrolet's advanced Turbo-Jet V8 in either a 396- or 427-cubic-inch version. Some 200 custom features are also available, including front-seat headrests, AM-FM stereo and a Tilt-telescopic steering wheel.

The price of it all? Somewhat more, naturally, than you're used to paying for a Chevrolet. But less—surprisingly less, as your dealer will happily confirm—than the select class of fine cars these new Caprices invite comparison with in every detail.

Two U.S. Negroes Due Trial In Plot To Smuggle Girl

BERLIN (AP)—Two American Negroes, described as civilian residents of West Berlin, apparently will be tried in East Berlin for allegedly attempting to smuggle out a 13-year-old girl.

The men were identified by U.S. authorities as Moses Reese Herrin, 24, of Akron, Ohio, and Frederick Matthews, 23, listed only as from Pennsylvania. Wolfgang Vogel, the men's East German lawyer, said in an interview the men would be tried but they had not yet been charged. He indicated they had not admitted taking part in any plot to bring the girl to her parent in West Berlin.

The men were reported jailed Sept. 19 after being picked up at a border crossing point when guards discovered the girl in a special compartment built into their car.

Vogel said the girl is the daughter of a West Berlin couple who had fled to the west earlier without her.

Man Injured In Car Crash

A 55-year-old West End man suffered a superficial injury in a collision of two cars Wednesday at 6:34 p. m. in W. Drury Ln. at West Alley in which a nearby building also was damaged, police reported.

Hurt in the mishap was Virgil Davis, 1252 Hague Ave., who suffered a cut on the forehead, officers said. He was a passenger in a 1951 sedan driven by James R. Woyem, 20, of 549 Oak Rd., Wellsville, which was involved in a collision with a 1962 sedan driven by John C. Zack, 50, of Youngstown, officers reported. Davis said he did not require medical treatment.

As a result of the collision, one of the cars struck the door of a utility shanty owned by the Potters Lumber Co., officers said.

Zack was driving west in Drury Ln. and Davis was proceeding north in West Alley, officers said. Davis said the Zack car struck his auto in the right side, causing extensive damage. The collision also damaged the bumper of Zack's car.

A collision Wednesday at 12:36 p. m. on Elizabeth St. near Pennsylvania Ave. involved a 1965 car driven by Kenneth E. Fryman, 46, of 1021 Rubicon St. and a 1954 coupe operated by David Paul Hager, 16, of 1854 Pennsylvania Ave.

Fryman said he was halted for a traffic signal when his car was hit from the rear. Hager told Patrolman Orin C. Smith his brakes failed. Hager was cited to Juvenile Court on a charge of failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

was in any sense to mollify critics of the McNamara plan in Congress and elsewhere.

They said the revamped roster, which includes 744 National Guard units and 232 from the Reserve, resulted from a judgment that more combat support type elements were needed to balance the force and these were available in the Reserve.

The heart of the force is three National Guard infantry divisions and six independent infantry brigades.

The announcement referred to "increased readiness training beginning next month."

This training and other measures are designed to put the select force in shape to deploy within eight weeks of mobilization.

Among other things, units will be required to drill 72 times during a year — a 50 per cent increase in the number of training assemblies.

Men now belonging to 751 Reserve units being disbanded as unneeded may volunteer to join Guard or Reserve units in the select force.

Call Delayed For Liberty Of Malaysia

SALISBURY, Rhodesia — Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith is delaying his call for a declaration of independence but he shows no sign of bowing to world pressure against the move.

Smith, the leader of the British colony's ruling white minority, told a television audience Wednesday that no decision had yet been reached to break away from Britain.

Speaking after a three-hour Cabinet meeting, he said there would be "a lot more discussion" before Rhodesia unilaterally declares its independence.

But he added: "I believe that if I was to say there is still room for negotiations, I'd be misleading people in this country."

Commenting on British Prime Minister Harold Wilson's proposal for mediation by a Commonwealth mission, Smith said: "As far as Australian Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies is concerned, he has a standing invitation from me to come here."

Walk Around Earth Slated For Astronaut

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Astronaut David R. Scott will walk outside the world at the end of a 100-foot tether line outside the Gemini 8 spacecraft early next year.

Edward White, the first American astronaut to leave an orbiting spacecraft, remained outside 21 minutes with a 21-foot line on the Gemini 4 mission in June.

Richard S. Johnston of the space agency's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston disclosed details of Scott's stroll at a space flight conference Wednesday in St. Louis.

Johnston said Scott will stay outside for one orbit around the earth—about 90 minutes—to obtain experience in both daylight and darkness. The walk will be made after Scott's partner on the flight, astronaut Neil Armstrong, has docked Gemini 8 with an orbiting Agena satellite.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I found an easy and efficient way to mop my hardwood floors:

I tore a fairly large, old bath towel in half, and sprayed it with a dust-catching preparation (to make the dust cling to the cloth).

Place the sprayed portion of the towel flat on the floor, then just flop your mop head on top of it, and dust away.

You'll be surprised at the ease and speed with which the dust is picked up, since the towel covers so much more space than the mop would. And it is much easier to shake out (and wash).

When you come to a hard-to-reach place, just shove the towel piece into the space with your foot.

By using pieces of towel under the mop, the mop will stay clean, and all you'll have to wash are the towels, themselves.

They are easier to wash, and they dry so much faster than the mop itself will.

MARGE.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Bossy Child Should Be Curbed At Home

Some bright children at school want to be called upon by the teacher an excessive number of times. So great may be this urge and so satisfying to the teacher to have a quick response that, in some classrooms, a few children may do most of the talking in the classroom. Dr. Garry Myers, a mother writes from Ohio of her daughter, seven:

"Her grades are top but she is a very bossy little girl or gives that impression. She has been so heartbroken most of her first year because her teacher doesn't call on her as often to lead and help as our daughter wishes.

"I have talked a number of times to her teacher who says she explained to the girl that 'a leader must be thoughtful of others.' I also have explained this to my daughter, though it has not seemed to help. She is hard-headed and stubborn and bent on having her own way most of the time.

"MY DAUGHTER doesn't have a lot of friends and I'm afraid it is because she is so bossy. When playing games she has to be the winner and always the teacher when the kids are playing school. It seems she is an extremely envious little girl.

"She has a brother. I believe at times she hates him. He is in the fourth grade and always has had to struggle to keep up in school, but is well-liked by his companions and teachers.

"He has a good disposition and most always can be reasoned with. My daughter belittles and criticizes her brother every chance she gets. I get impatient with her and do yell at her at times.

"Please show us how to help her to overcome some of her ugly ways. I am afraid she will grow up a very lonely person. I know I need to change myself a lot."

My reply in part:

You hardly can hope to change your daughter's ways at school by just talking about them at home. You can do most by working on her right at home in scores of situations there. Clearly she is very selfish and has not learned to respect the little word "no" said once with finality. Get this settled and you won't often be tempted to yell at her.

WHEN YOUR daughter must be punished, assign her to sit, unamused, doing nothing, where you can see her, for thirty minutes. If she leaves the chair too soon, paddle her soundly.

Attract some other children of her age to your home, when you can study her in relation to them and curb her in her lordly it over them. Don't allow her to choose unduly often what to play next or to be the teacher when they play school.

Require your daughter to observe strictly the rules of a game. Help the older brother also to have his own friends in.

When you help with your son's schoolwork, don't have her present. Curb her in her nasty remarks about him. Try to enjoy her at other times and play up her good traits.

Miami U. President Pledges School True To Its Mission

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Philip Raymond Shriver said today in his inaugural speech as 17th president of Miami University that he will do his best to keep the state-supported school true to its mission in a time of change.

Mentioning that some people feel that "Knowledge, like 1965-model automobiles, may become obsolete within the decade," the former Kent State University history professor added:

"Caught up in the greatest forward thrust yet experienced in this state and nation for the provision of educational opportunity for all who can profit therefrom, this university realizes its mission is, as at its beginning, the promotion of good education, virtue and morality. At the same time it appreciates that some of its traditional guide lines must be altered in the light of the needs and demands of the present and the future."

He pledged "the best that is in me" for the task of keeping Miami true to this mission. Official delegates of some 230 colleges, universities and learned societies took part in the ceremony by which Shriver succeeded Dr. John D. Millett who resigned last year to become the first chancellor-director of the Ohio Board of Regents. Shriver was born in Cleveland 43 years ago and attended Yale, Harvard and Columbia. He joined Kent State's faculty in 1947 and last year became dean of its college of arts and sciences. The Miami board of trustees named him Millett's successor last February and he took over July 1 from acting president Dr. Charles Ray Wil-son.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going through a lovely young widow for about 18 months. Barbara lives in another city but we see each other every weekend. We are in love and plan to be married. Barbara told me early in our friendship that her husband killed himself.

Somehow my mother and sisters learned about the suicide and they are trying to talk me out of marrying her. They say when a married man kills himself it means his wife failed him.

Barbara is sensitive and insecure; her life has been a trying and lonely one. I believe it is unfair to say she failed her husband and I resent the suggestion that she is a poor marriage risk. I'd like your views.—COLOR ME BLUE.

Dear Blue: First, about your family: Color them vicious. Suicide is an irrational act. A husband or a wife who has to live through the nightmare should be spared the burden of guilt feelings.

If you love the woman and want to marry her I hope you will disregard your family's cruel insinuations. Good luck and God bless you both.

Framed Photog

Dear Ann: May I say a word in defense of the amateur photographer who was criticized by the bride's parents because he took only 21 pictures of their side of the family and 63 pictures of the groom's side?

To begin with, he made the pictures as a favor, not as a paid professional. At drugstore prices the photographer laid out between $21 and $30 for film, bulbs, processing and prints. If they had hired a professional, it would have cost them at least $200 for 84 8x10s.

I would advise "Amateur Photographer" to destroy the negatives and then sit back and enjoy the expressions on their faces when they ask for additional prints. And they will.—FILM-FLAMMED.

Dear Flammed: My newspaper photographer friends tell me you are far too conservative in your cost estimates. They say it would cost more than $30 to produce 84 decent 8x10 prints.

Photographers, both amateur and professional, are exploited and imposed upon by thoughtless friends and relatives. I hope this exchange will give them the courage to say "no" to those who try to take advantage of them.

Scullion For 'Smuggly'

Dear Ann: This is for "No Nonsense Nell"—the smug, self-satisfied dame who pinned orchids on herself because she gained only 9 to 12 pounds during her pregnancies and didn't even have to buy maternity clothes.

How a woman carries the baby depends on the way she's built. A woman can't choose her bone structure any more than she can choose the color of her eyes.

With my first baby I gained only 11 pounds but I was so enormous that our friends were taking bets it would be twins for sure and maybe triplets. My sister-in-law gained 27 pounds and nobody knew she was pregnant until she was due to go to the hospital.

So, please, Ann, tell that obnoxious dame not to be so proud of herself. It's all in the lap of the gods.—MOTHER HOOD.

Dear Mother: It's also in the lap of the ladies—and some ladies can't see their laps for six months because they use pregnancy as an excuse to eat everything in sight.

The structure is important but the gal who eats sensibly and keeps her weight down will look better—and she'll feel better, too.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Decision Awaited On Abbott's Trial In Trunk Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 1st Circuit Court of Appeals is expected to rule later this year on whether trunk slayer Robert Ray Abbott, 21, received a fair trial on a first degree murder charge.

The Dayton, Ky., man is serving a term of life imprisonment for the murder of Wanda Cook, 24, Bellevue, Ky., whose body was shipped to Cleveland in a large trunk after she was slain in a Cincinnati hotel a year ago.

Attorney Harry H. McIlwain told the three-judge court Wednesday Abbott should have been granted a change of venue from Hamilton County Common Pleas Court because of pre-trial publicity.

McIlwain also contended Abbott should get another trial because police released his juvenile arrest record and because his former fiancée, the key government witness, admitted she lied during the trial.

Alice Ewing, 22, Fort Thomas, Ky., testified during the trial she helped her fiancé move Miss Cook's body from the hotel. She was later convicted of larceny by trick for using the dead woman's credit plate, and her appeal was heard by the court on Monday.

U.S. Seen Unwilling To Assist Malaysia

ALOR STAR, Malaysia (AP) — Prime Minister Abdul Rahman charged today that the United States is unwilling to assist Malaysia because "she thinks we are not a bankrupt nation."

"If American will only help us when we are bankrupt," he declared, "it will be useless."

Speaking at the opening of a $1.9-million highway financed from the U.S. Development Fund, Rahman said his finance minister recently led a mission overseas to try to obtain $666 million in aid.

"The Americans were not keen to help," he said. "I do not understand this attitude."

Man Gets Life Term In Shooting Death

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — George W. Turpin, 61, Carlisle, has been sentenced to life imprisonment for the second degree murder in the shooting April 16 of Harry W. Crum, 39, in the dead man's restaurant at Middletown.

Turpin pleaded guilty to the charge Wednesday in common pleas court.

$1,681 Offer Seen Low On Pickup Truck

Bob White Ford, Inc., of Wellsville submitted the apparent low net offer of $1,681.76 when the Board of Public Utilities opened sealed offers early Wednesday afternoon on purchase of a new half-ton pickup truck for use in the sewage department.

The concern quoted a price of $1,881.76 for a 1966 Ford truck, less a $200 trade-in for a 1959 model GMC pickup that the board had termed worn beyond economical repair.

The Wellsville bid and four others were taken under advisement by the board to allow study before a contract is awarded.

The other offers are:

Wimmer Motor Sales of Dresden Ave., a 1966 half-ton GMC Model 1001 for $2,638.90, less $175.90 in federal excise tax and $488 for the old truck, for a net price of $1,975.

Mike Turk, Inc., of E. 6th St., a 1966 Chevrolet half-ton Model C-1404 for $2,434.25, less a $434.25 discount and $150 for the old truck, giving a net price of $1,850.

Mackall Motors of Pennsylvania Ave., a 1966 Ford Model F-100 half-ton for $2,300.50, less $460.50 as a trade-in of the old truck, for a net price of $1,840.

O. S. Hill & Co. of Pennsylvania Ave., a 1966 International half-ton Model D-1100 for $2,427.50, less a $617.50 trade-in, making the net price $1,810.

The board also was scheduled to open bids yesterday on repair of the downspouts and valves on the roof of the water purification plant, but no offers were filed.

The board indicated it will issue another call for bids shortly on the roof job.

Council appropriated funds for the truck purchases early in 1965 and allocated money for the roof job at its meeting on Sept. 20.

Elyria Local Rejects Firm's Final Offer

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Members of Local 383, International Molders and Allied Workers Union have turned down what the company says is its final offer to end a 75-day-old strike at Electro Alloys Division of American Brake Shoe Co.

John Tjemmes, vice president, said the company could not afford to increase the economic package, which includes cash increases and pension and insurance improvements amounting to 28 cents. An extra paid holiday also was provided.

Investigation Ordered In School Lottery Plan

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—An investigation of a $1,000-a-month lottery to finance school projects at St. John Catholic High School has been ordered by David P. DeLuca, city manager.

School officials and DeLuca said they did not know that the lottery was against the Ohio Constitution. The school booster club gives away $1,000 each month in a drawing at the school. DeLuca said if the lottery is illegal he will have to put a stop to it.

Vietnamese AP Photographer Is Killed In Action

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Associated Press photographer Huynh Thanh My was killed in action in the Mekong River delta Wednesday night, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

My, 29, a Vietnamese, was the second Associated Press photographer to die in the Viet Nam war.

Bernard Kolenberg, working for the AP while on leave from the Albany (N.Y.) Times-Union, was killed Oct. 2 when the American plane in which he was a passenger collided with another during a combat mission.

My had accompanied the 44th Vietnamese ranger battalion on an operation. The unit came under heavy attack from two Viet Cong battalions. He apparently died of a bullet

Neville Group To Back Levy

The Neville Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday night voted endorsement of the new 3½-mill levy to provide school operating expenses that will appear on the ballot at the Nov. 2 general election.

The action was taken after Supt. Paul Blair discussed the levy, designed to raise funds for salaries and wages. Austen Moore of the East Liverpool Teachers Association, discussed Issue No. 1 on the Nov. 2 ballot, a proposal to provide additional funds for Ohio education by increasing the state sales tax.

The PTA appointed a telephone committee to urge residents to vote in favor of the 3½-mill levy.

Money was allocated to purchase raincoats for school patrol boys. It was announced open house will be held at the school on Oct. 26 as part of the observance of National Education Week.

The organization agreed to sponsor the Camp Fire Girls unit in the Neville - Klondyke area. Mrs. Robert Waters is leader.

The names of new committee chairmen were announced. They are: Mrs. Marie Gill, ways and means; Mrs. Robert Thorn, social, and James Tyler, program. William Bennett, president, presided. Don Moore led devotions. Lester Hickman was introduced as the new principal. He introduced homeroom teachers. Reports were given by Mrs. James Tyler, secretary, and Ted Seever, treasurer.

The first and third grades tied for the attendance banner. Lunch was served by the Executive Committee. The next meeting will be held Nov. 9.

Board Asked For Coaches At Waterford

MIDDLETON — A request for additional coaching aides for the Fairfield-Waterford School District sports programs was presented by a group of parents to the board of education Wednesday night.

The delegation urged hiring of assistants for the high school and elementary programs.

The board members agreed upon the need for additional coaches, but said the financial resources required for extra personnel pose a problem.

AT PRESENT there are two coaches for the high school football program and one for junior high. Of the 140 boys in the high school, 44 are out for football — a 31 per cent turnout which is comparatively high.

The board members said the matter will be studied and a solution reached if possible.

Ernest Grekis, high school instructor, was hired as freshman basketball coach with $150 supplemental pay.

The board changed the next meeting, scheduled Nov. 10, to Nov. 17 to permit members to attend the Ohio School Boards Association meeting at Columbus Nov. 9-11.

Bids will be received at the next meeting for an audiometer for use by the school nurse and speech therapist. A county instrument is now being used.

IN OTHER action the board adopted a uniform county school policy regarding the referring of truancy cases to County Juvenile Court. Basically, the policy includes requiring a conference between school authorities and the parents of the truant student before the case is referred to the court.

Joseph Driscoll, executive head, reported the district would receive about $7,000 under a federal program based on needy families with students in school. Driscoll said there are 33 students in the district with families whose income is $2,000 or less.

The board received two bids on sewing machines for the home economics department, but took no action.

Driscoll announced the schedule for approaching events, including an open house meeting of the New Waterford Parent-Teacher Organization Monday, Athletic Boosters meeting Tuesday, Music Boosters Nov. 8 and Fairfield PTO Nov. 15.

Local Soldier Serves In Viet Nam Theater

Pfc. Carl G. Ludwig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Ludwig of 839 Chester Ave., is among members of the 1st Infantry Division who debarked recently in the Viet Nam theater.

Pvt. Ludwig has been assigned as an assistant gunner with the division.

He entered the Army in January 1964 and completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. The 24-year-old soldier is a 1959 graduate of East Liverpool High School and attended Youngstown University.

He was employed by the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Wreck Injuries Fatal To Ohio Woman, 69

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County's traffic toll stood at 111 today with the death of Mrs. Corinne Schultz, 69, Withamsville.

Mrs. Schultz died Wednesday. Authorities said she was passenger in a car struck by another car Sept. 30.

Ice Cream Figure Dies

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP) — The man credited with inventing the ice cream bar, William C. Morgan, died of a stroke in a Glendale hospital Wednesday. He was 90. A family spokesman said Morgan invented the taste treat in Bellingham, Wash., in 1908, patented his invention, and later sold the patent to the Good Humor Co.

The border line between Canada and the United States is 3,986 miles.

Fall Flowers

The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la, have nothing on those that bloom in the fall, ha-ha!

A report of violets the other day has been followed by word that orchid-colored crocuses and white lilacs are swaying in the breeze in yards here.

Mrs. Roy Clark of 684 Almont St. was pleasantly surprised Wednesday when she stepped out back and discovered five crocuses just as big as life. "They are prettier than they were in the spring," she said.

For the uninformed, the dictionary defines a crocus as "any of a large genus of herbs of the iris family having solitary long-tubed flowers and slender linear leaves."

The white lilacs are in the yard of a home on St. Clair Ave.

Freezing Ground Seen Only Way Of Saving Tower

BURLINGTON, Ohio (AP)—The Leaning Tower of Pisa in Italy appears to be heading toward collapse and Andrew Viglianco of Burlington is convinced freezing the ground is the only way to save it.

Viglianco, 75, inspected the structure during a trip to Italy last summer and outlined for Italian officials his plan to stop the tower from leaning more.

But the ice plant operator said he couldn't convince officials that his method would work.

Viglianco proposed burying refrigeration coils in the ground. This would freeze the earth and keep it frozen solid. Thus, he says, the tower foundation wouldn't settle any more and the tower would be held at its present tilt.

An Italian government commission named to study the problem has received about 300 proposals on how to save the tower. The commission hasn't commented on Viglianco's plan.

Authorities Concerned About Glue Sniffing

CINCINNATI (AP)—Authorities in Cincinnati say they are becoming concerned about glue sniffing in Cincinnati's schools that has led to the arrest of 22 youngsters since classes started.

Police say only 19 youths were cited for the same offense between Jan. 1 and Aug. 31.

Glue sniffing can lead to addiction and medical authorities say it is injurious to health.

In Cincinnati, glue sniffing had not been considered a problem until recently and police say Ohio has no law against it. Officers have been arresting youngsters under a law authorizing the arrest of persons who harm themselves or others.

Production Normal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Production was back to normal today at the Chrysler Motors Corp. stamping plant in Twinsburg after a brief walkout of 1,600 day-shift workers Wednesday. A union spokesman said the walkout started because employees could not be informed that a grievance issue was settled minutes before.

Man, Woman Killed As Bridge Collapses

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Two Fairborn residents were killed Wednesday night when an old steel truss bridge collapsed into the Mad River, hurling their auto into the water.

The victims were identified by sheriff's deputies as Charles S. McCue, 54, and Mrs. Margaret L. Lester, both employees at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton.

Witnesses said the car apparently struck the narrow bridge, jarring it from its foundation.

The 175-foot span swayed slightly and then toppled into the river, flipping the car over and into the water. The bridge landed on top of the overturned auto.

A big crane was used to remove the car from the water.

Test Planned On Meter Job

The Municipal Civil Service Commission Wednesday scheduled a test for Monday, Nov. 15, to draw up an eligibility list for appointment of a city parking meter repairman-collector—the post left vacant with the death of Robert Kelly in September.

The commission said applications will be received until Nov. 3 at 4 p. m. The post pays $458 per month, based on a 40-hour week, with an hourly rate of $2.08 for overtime.

Applicants must be at least 21 and not over 65 at the time of the examination. A small photo of the applicant must accompany the form. The applications must be notarized and accompanied by a $1 fee.

Applicants must have been citizens of East Liverpool for at least six months by the time of the examination. Those who pass the test will be asked to take a physical examination before certification of their names to the administration.

The commission scheduled the test after receiving a personnel requisition from Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey. Mr. Kelly, who had held the job since 1947, died last month while on vacation in Wyoming.

The commission said it will be the 21st exam conducted so far in 1965. Applications are available at the office of Mayor George E. Willshaw or from any member of the commission—Donald I. Burcham, chairman, A. A. Fiorello and H. A. Tullis, P. K. Calhoun is clerk.

The commission also screened applications filed earlier for a test for prospective city truck drivers which will be conducted next Monday night. All three applications were accepted.

'Fact Book' Says Ohio Behind In Education Phase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Council for Education has produced a 40-page "fact book" in which it says Ohio lags far behind the national pace in providing educational opportunities for elementary and high school students.

"We put this book together to show those who seek to delay action on state support for education why Ohio simply cannot afford to continue its present level of support for education," said James O. Brennan, OCE administrative director.

He said the book shows that Ohio, while the sixth wealthiest state, ranks 35th nationally with an average of 41.6 teachers per thousand students.

He said the book also shows that Ohio ranks 35th in the average number of students per classroom (26.1); 24th in average teacher salaries ($5,800) and 46th in per capita expenditures from state funds for support of elementary and secondary education ($35,700).

The council is backing a proposed increase in the state sales tax from three to four per cent to annually provide about $116 million in additional funds for education.

1 Killed, 2 Injured As Scaffold Collapses

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A scaffold holding eight men—as they worked on the construction of a grain silo collapsed Wednesday, dropping three men 59 feet to a concrete floor.

Killed was Orville Vizzo, 36, of Xenia. The other two men, James Jordan and Lee Goon, were brought to a hospital, where Jordan was admitted for treatment of possible broken ankles and internal injuries and Goon was treated for less serious injuries and released.

The other five men on the scaffold escaped injury by leaping to the sides and top of the structure. The five were rescued by firemen with ladders.

Alston's Worried -- Will It Be Koufax Or Drysdale?

Mudcat Scatters Six Hits To Win

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — So now it was Walter Alston's turn to worry.

Shaken by Wednesday's unexpected 5-1 loss to Minnesota, the Dodger manager found himself undecided whether to pitch right-hander Don Drysdale or southpaw Sandy Koufax in the seventh and final game of the World Series today.

Normally a situation like that shouldn't be of much concern to a manager. It's like picking between the Hope Diamond and the Star of India.

Only in this case, the two—Dodger pitching gems have slight imperfections.

Drysdale is the more rested of the two, but he injured his pitching hand while batting during Sunday's game.

Koufax's arthritic left elbow showed no ill effects after Monday's game, but there was concern whether he'll have his usual effectiveness after only two days of rest.

Sam Mele, who took a big gamble with Jim Grant Wednesday—and won—had no such problems as he confidently looked forward to the seventh game, fourth in the Twins' home park where they have yet to be beaten by the Dodgers.

"It's Jim Kaat," he said emphatically. "I told him he'd pitch the seventh game even before we had played the sixth. It really makes no difference to us whether Drysdale or Koufax pitches for them. They're both tough. But I got a pretty good horse going for me, too."

Kaat defeated Koufax 5-1 in Minnesota in the second game of the Series but lost 7-0 to the Dodgers southpaw in Los Angeles last Monday.

Whereas Koufax pitched nine innings, Kaat hurled only 2-1-3, giving up four runs and six hits. "I feel fine," said the Twins left-hander. "I welcome the opportunity to get another crack at them, especially in our ball park."

Never in Series history has a home park been more beneficial to a club. The Dodgers won all three at their park, and the Twins took all three in theirs.

Grant, working with only two days rest, was in command all the way Wednesday. The broad-shouldered right-hander from Lacombe, Fla., permitted the

Jewish Holiday Caused Change In LA Pitching

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The dilemma Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston faced before the seventh game of the World Series revolved around a quirk in the calendar and a decision he didn't make.

Alston, who said he would wait until game time before naming his starting pitcher, likely wouldn't have had any trouble if for the first time in memory two facts hadn't coincided — the opening game was scheduled for a Jewish holiday and the No. 1 pitcher was Jewish.

The day was Yom Kippur and the pitcher was Sandy Koufax, who decided even before the Dodgers clinched the pennant that he would not pitch on the solemn holy day under any circumstances.

It is reported that Koufax has written into his contract that he does not have to pitch on Jewish holidays.

Alston, forced to bypass Koufax, started right-hander Don Drysdale in the opening game.

That created the possibility that if the Series went seven games Alston would have to

Alston Walked Quilici And Pitched To Grant

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Your're losing 2-0 in the sixth inning. The opposition has a man on second base with two out. A .188 hitter is up next. Then the pitcher. What do you do?

Walter Alston had that decision to make in Wednesday's sixth World Series game. His Los Angeles Dodgers trailed the Minnesota Twins and had not been making much headway against Jim (Mudcat) Grant.

Alston chose to walk the .188 hitter, rookie second baseman Frank Quilici, setting up a force play situation at each base. He decided to have Howie Reed, his relief pitcher, pitch to pitcher Grant.

Grant hit the first pitch into the left field pavilion, a 392-foot home, that put the game beyond recall 5-0. Minnesota eventually won 5-1, sending the series into a seventh game Thursday.

Martins Ferry Has Traveled Rocky Road

East Liverpool travels to Martins Ferry Friday night and reports from that city indicate that the 1965 Purple Riders have traveled a mighty rocky road so far this season.

In the midst of one of the worst seasons in the school's history, the Riders show only one victory in five games and have scored only two touchdowns this season. One of the TD's came on an intercepted pass so Martins Ferry offensive team has only one TD to its credit.

Riders Have One Victory, 2 TD's

THE RIDERS lone victory came in the fourth game of the season with a 16-14 win over

Wheeling. The four other losses have been shutouts losing

36-0 to Hempfield, Pa., 26-0 to Marietta, 19-0 to Follansbee and 28-0 to Winterville last week. In the Follansbee game, Martins Ferry did outgain the Blue Wave on the ground.

When Carl Mamone took over as head coach replacing Bob Wion who joined the staff at Purdue University, he only had five lettermen on hand.

MARTINS Ferry has a big team but no offensive punch. Three of the letter winners are in the backfield including Greg Tesniarz, 185-pound senior who will start at quarterback. Tesniarz was converted from end where he lettered last season.

Another veteran is Ernie Smallis, a 196-pound senior, who received All - Ohio recognition last year as a linebacker. Smallis is rated the best all - around player on the team. He plays halfback on the offensive unit but is the key to the Riders defense.

DAVE Totterdale, 180-pound senior, will be at fullback while the other letter winners are Tom Campbell, a 230-pound senior and co-captain while Steve Scipio, 175-pound junior starts at right end.

The other backfield regular is Tom Williams a 180-pound sophomore.

The remainder of the forward wall lists Alex Vargo, 210-pound senior at center, with Steve Doyman (170) and Gary McKaye (175) at guards. John Gavarkovich, 195-pound junior will be at the other tackle with Ken Dawson, 165-pound senior at left end.

COACH Bob Starkey's team is fresh from a great comeback victory last Saturday over Follansbee which was their fourth victory in a row after successful wins over Wellsburg, East Liverpool and Triadelphia.

Palmer Faces Kel Nagle In British Play

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Arnold Palmer started shooting today for Britain's biggest golf prize — and found his way blocked by an old rival, Kel Nagle of Australia.

The two stars were paired against each other in the first round of the Piccadilly "World Match Play Tournament" over the 6,997-yard par 74 Wentworth west links.

Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa., won last year's inaugural and was favorite again for the title, which carries a prize of $14,000.

In 1960 — the year Palmer won both the U.S. Open and the U.S. Masters — Nagle edged him by one hole in the British Open and prevented a grand slam. The following year Palmer got his revenge on Nagle in the British Open.

Oak Glen Tickets Go On Sale Before Game

The ticket office at Newell Memorial Field will be open at 5 p. m. when reserved seat tickets for the Oak Glen-Phillip Barbour game will go on sale. Gates to the fields will open at 6 p. m.

Homecoming will be observed Friday at Oak Glen and the 1965 queen will be crowned during pre-game ceremonies which start at 7:30 p. m.

In its last outing Phillip Barbour was defeated by Morgantown. United will wait until Saturday in an effort to make it six in a row. The only undefeated team in the district, United, in the small school category was ranked No. 10 this week in the Associated Press poll. The Golden Eagles will travel to Jackson Milton Saturday.

WELLSVILLE will be regrouping its forces after losing to fourth ranked Big Red last week and invade Mingo Junction Friday night.

Coach Ken Woods Tigers are currently sitting on a 3-2 record as they shoot for a winning campaign. Beaver Local, after suffering a frustrating 12-6 loss at United last week is favored to check in with its third victory of the season at East Palestine Friday night.

Remain 1-2 In NAIA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Concordia, Minn., and Findlay, Ohio, are still running 1-2 in the NAIA weekly football poll. Concordia won 12 of the 15 first place votes.

Behind the top two, the standings were reshuffled. Moving up to the 3-4-5 spots were St. John's, Minn.; Sul Ross State, Tex., and St. Norbert, Wis., replacing Northern Michigan, Northeastern Oklahoma and Grambling, La.

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Detroit Pistons wound up their exhibition game series Wednesday by defeating the Philadelphia 76ers 110-86 in a National Basketball Association game.

Grant Is Elated Over His Big Hit

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Jim Grant, the pitcher, was happy. Jim Grant, the hitter, was elated.

Rolled into one and known as "Mudcat," they shackled the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-1 and pulled the Minnesota Twins into a 3-3 deadlock Wednesday in the World Series.

Like most pitchers, Grant bubbled as he talked about his homer, a three-run blast 392 feet into the center field bleachers in the sixth inning.

"I've given up 34 home runs so I know what one sounds like," Grant grinned as he explained he knew the ball was gone "as soon as I hit it."

The sore-kneed right-hander, coming back on two days rest, said he shouted "how about that," to coach Billy Martin as he rounded third.

"I hit a curve ball, a helluva curve, right into the teeth of a gale," said the impish Grant.

Grant, a nightclub song-and-dance man in the off-season, has a windup that looks like part of his act. But there was nothing funny to the Dodgers about the pitches that whipped out of that windup.

"My plan was to go as long as I could, as hard as I could," he said.

He said Dodger Ron Rairly, who homered, hit "a sinker that didn't sink," and said a couple of others among the Dodgers' six hits were hanging curve balls.

Catcher Earl Battey called it "one of Grant's finest games." He said Grant worked the corners with precision and challenged the Dodger hitters.

Probe Continues In Vandalism At Southern Field

SALINEVILLE — Sheriff's deputies today continued investigation of vandalism at the Southern Local High School football field sometime Tuesday night when a car was driven through a snow fence and up and down the field.

Jack Baker, executive head, said the car was raced up and down the field and spun around, burning out grass, and causing ruts and holes in the turf.

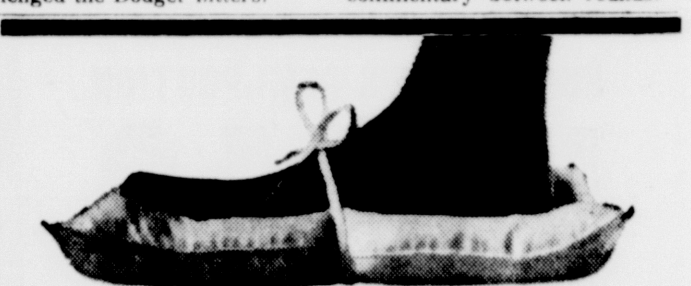

Baker said the field was "greatly disfigured," and will require considerable work before it again has a suitable appearance.

Volunteers are working to improve the field, and it will be used for the remainder of the games.

Jim Brown To Tackle Mike In Nov. 1 Fight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fullback Jim Brown, who runs over people for the Cleveland Browns will tackle a microphone Nov. 1 as a broadcaster for the Ernie Terrell-George Chuvalo heavyweight fight.

Mihail Malitz, head of the closed circuit firm that will televise the 15-round bout in Toronto, said Wednesday in New York Brown will handle color commentary between rounds.

This is the idea behind Thom McAn's Cloud Club

The pillow in Thom McAn's Cloud Club is a thick, plush, cushiony foam insole, covered with soft glove leather. It cushions your foot with every step. Cradles your heel. Gives at the ball of your foot. Nestles your toes.

It makes an unearthly difference.

We could sell the Cloud Club on its crisp clean-cut looks alone. Rich, supple leather. A handsome pattern. Impeccable craftsmanship. Cloud Clubs are made by shoemakers who take a stubborn pride in their workmanship.

You'd expect the Cloud Club to be priced sky high. But it isn't. Pillow and all,

Twins Can See Pitches Better

Home Field Appears Key Factor In World Series

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS—T. Paul (AP) — The home field, just like home cooking, appeared to be the key factor in the first six games of the 1965 World Series — and the Minnesota Twins hoped it would be the deciding factor.

"Sure, I think it's a big difference being home," Twins Manager Sam Mele said Wednesday after the Twins had beaten the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-1 and squared the Series at three games apiece.

His players — and the record — backed up Mele. Neither side had been able to break the home team's "service" in the Series. The Twins won the first three games played here and the Dodgers swept three in a row in Los Angeles.

Mele hinted it was mostly a psychological advantage for his club to come back home. "I think the fans had a lot to do with it," he said. "The boys were down a little coming back from Los Angeles, but being greeted by about a thousand fans in the cold weather at the airport was a big lift."

His players, however, tended to think getting back to Metropolitan Stadium was a bigger lift.

But not for the same reason as the Dodgers, who didn't like the loose dirt on the infield here. "It's just that you can see the ball better here," said Harmon Killebrew. "Maybe the guys feel better here, but I don't care where I play — just so I can see the ball when the pitcher throws it."

Don Mincher added: "It means a heck of a lot to get out of Dodger Stadium. That ballpark just gave us fits, and part of the reason was the back-droop against the pitcher. We can see here."

Coach Billy Martin called it "the difference between night and day. We can hit here, and the Dodgers have their swings geared to cut down on the ball and ground it through their hard infield."

Even Jim Kaat, the big left-hander who was due to start for Minnesota today, said he could tell the difference.

"I would rather pitch here," said Kaat, "because I think our ball club has a more confident attitude."

W. Va. Educators Probe New Ways To Help Gifted Child

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — West Virginia educators, celebrating the 100th birthday of the West Virginia Education Association, probed new ways today of helping the gifted child, advancing foreign language study and new teaching trends in science.

An estimated 14,000 teachers and administrators — a record for such meetings — were expected here by late morning to join in the first of two full days of panel discussions and work-shops.

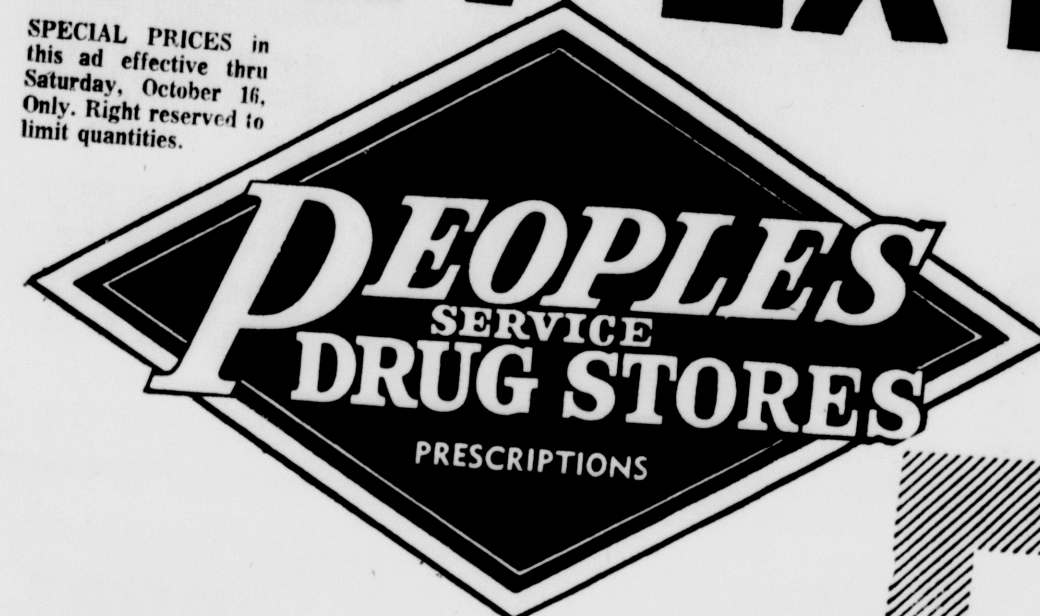

During a mass meeting at the Civic Center this morning, the educators saluted the WVEA's centennial in a special program, headed by the group's president in 1920, Virginia Foulk.

One of the assembly's high points will be presented tonight in a special skit tracing the development of the association since its founding in Fairmont in 1865.

Meanwhile, public school children throughout the state enjoyed an extra holiday by having today and

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Fat Jack Takes On Fast Frank

Jack E. Leonard's comedy is done with the scattergun approach. By tossing one-liners in all directions at his audience, he's bound to score a certain number of hits. He operates on the same principle when being interviewed.

"You're doing a Hollywood Palace Hal Humphrey this Saturday with Frank Sinatra?" I asked.

"Yeah. I hope he shows up."

"You mean...?"

"I mean he's very unreliable. He sold me some stolen tires once. I think in a very short time he'll be back in Hoboken, N.J., selling papers."

"YOU LIKE FRANK, don't you?"

"Of course. Wonderful fellow. And now I'm doing the same jokes on Frank Jr. that I did 20 years ago on his old man."

"What kind of jokes?"

"Oh, you know, the thin jokes, like he's so thin he's on the critical list at Blue Cross."

"You going to pull your Mia Farrow jokes on the show with Frank?"

"Well, I'll kid around a little, see, then maybe test him with 'What's Frank Jr. going to call her if you two get married — Mama Mia?' He may not go for this, you know."

"WHAT ABOUT your own weight? You put it back?"

"Not all of it. I lost 148 pounds. I had to. It was good for the act, but then I got tired of doing diet jokes."

"You're bigger than Jackie Gleason."

"You're crazy. They built that round house for Jackie to fit his stomach. He doesn't live in Mount Kisco — he swallowed it. Kisco — he swallowed it. You know why Jackie became one of our great pantomimists? Because he's too lazy to learn lines."

"He plays a lot of golf. Are you a golfer?"

"Golf? I don't even want to walk."

"HOW DID YOU get started in show business?"

"Doing Charleston contests. I won, too — in the Jewish neighborhoods."

"What did you win?"

"They gave away $150 a week in prizes. I finally turned professional and made only $75."

"Did you ever get to school?"

"What kind of a crack is that? I won a swimming scholarship at Northwestern University, but they kicked me out when they found out I'd fixed my marks in high school."

"And then?"

"I BECAME a lifeguard seven days a week at the Oak Street

Beach in Chicago and moonlighted at a swimming pool doing comedy on a diving board."

"Comedy?"

"I had to. I couldn't dive."

"What do you think of the new season TV?"

"Deathsville. I can't watch it."

"You like doing it, though?"

"It bounced my night club salary from $3,500 to $7,500. I've done 45 guest shots on TV in the past 17 months."

"EVER WANT to do a TV series?"

"I've done a series and nobody wants it."

"What's that?"

"Sure, the Translux people did a cartoon series with my voice and jokes. We've got 11 of them, but they're just five minutes each and nobody wants anything on TV that lasts five minutes."

"What's the series called?"

"Fat Jack, the Sheriff of Cheyenne and Fastest Mouth in the West."

You can see him on Hollywood Palace Saturday with Swinging Frank, Fastest Fist in the East.

Cancer Detection Clinic At Lisbon Has Tested 282

LISBON — A total of 282 women have been tested at the Columbiana County Cancer Detection Clinic, which is marking its first quarter year of operation this week.

The response to the clinic by county women has been so encouraging that Dr. M. K. Singer, Columbiana County health commissioner, has put the clinic's clerk, Mrs. Easley Stewart, on a full-time schedule.

Depending upon its acceptance, the clinic project has been conditionally financed for three years. Dr. Singer urges all women to take advantage of the opportunity to have a "Pap" smear test. The clinic's full-time nurse, Mrs. Elizabeth Peterson, performs the tests.

"Women have made contributions, but none is necessary, and those who can't afford a contribution are just as welcome as those who can," Dr. Singer said.

The clinic, on the third floor of the Courthouse here, is open from noon to 4 p. m. on Mondays and from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. However, appointments may be made from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday by calling 424-7221, Extensions 25 or 31.

Man Pleads Guilty In Daughter's Death

CINCINNATI (AP)—A probation investigation has been ordered for a man who pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter in the beating of his three-month old daughter.

Robert T. Hedger, 21, Cincinnati, entered the plea Wednesday in common pleas court. Police say he admitted beating his daughter Delcie Marie on the head when she kept crying. The child died Sept. 3.

Production Of Silverless Quarters Hits 100 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mint has produced 100 million new silverless quarters and production is running ahead of schedule, a Treasury official said today.

The new coins will be put into circulation in time for the Christmas shopping season although the date for release has not been set.

By the end of the year, the official said, the mint will begin turning out silverless dimes and half dollars. Original plans called for production of these coins early next year.

The new quarters and dimes consist of a layer of copper sandwiched between two layers of cupronickel, a copper-nickel alloy of which the nickel coin is made.

The change was authorized by Congress because of a potential shortage of silver. The silver content of the half dollar was reduced from 90 to 40 per cent.

Production of the new quarters is being rapidly accelerated. Although almost 2 1/2 months were required to manufacture the first 100 million, the mint will turn out an estimated 435 million in the remaining 2 1/2 months of the year.

Some 1.9 billion quarters and 1.4 billion dimes are scheduled to be produced in the first six months of 1966.

The coin shortage which has plagued banks and businesses for several years has eased considerably, the Treasury source said. "There is no evidence of further hoarding, except for a few businessmen putting away what they expect to need during the Christmas season — and these will come out at that time."

The government has sizable inventories of nickels and pennies.

Johnson's Old Friend

Senate Group Approves Morrissey As U.S. Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has approved President Johnson's nomination of Francis X. Morrissey, 55, for U.S. Dist. Court Judge in Massachusetts.

Appointment of the old friend and political supporter of the Kennedy family now hinges on whether the Senate will follow the committee's recommendation.

Seven of the 15 committee members were absent Wednesday as Morrissey underwent a second round of questioning and then was approved 6-3.

The Boston Municipal Court judge left the hearing smiling and saying he has "no hard feelings toward anyone."

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who voted against confirmation, said he will delay Senate action until next week but will not try to block a vote before Congress adjourns.

"I just want the facts laid out to my satisfaction," Dirksen told newsmen.

Joining Dirksen in opposing Morrissey's appointment were Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who recommended Morrissey to the President, voted for confirmation along with the committee chairman, Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss.,

Battelle Head Appointed To OSU's Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State University Board of Trustees was scheduled to meet today with a new member seated just one day after his appointment.

Gov. James A. Rhodes named Dr. Betram David Thomas, president of Columbus' Battelle Memorial Institute, to the board Wednesday.

He succeeds Carlton S. Dargusch, Columbus Attorney who resigned Monday after the Ohio Supreme Court refused his appeal of a high court ruling suspending him from practice.

It was not known whether the controversial speakers rule, modified at the last trustee meeting, again would be taken up today. Only routine business was on the agenda.

Thomas refused to comment Wednesday on his stand on the speakers rule and said he did not know what action he would take if the issue were brought up for a vote.

In announcing Thomas' appointment, the governor made no mention of a request by some Ohio State faculty members to hold up naming the new trustee until suggestions could be made by the faculty.

Thomas is chairman of the science advisory committee of the Ohio Board of Regents and is a member of the midwest science advisory committee of the Midwestern Governors' Conference.

Despite Highway Beauty Bill

Billboard Owners Look To Rose-Colored Future

NEW YORK (AP) — The outdoor advertising industry is looking to the future through rose-colored billboards despite congressional passage of the highway beautification bill.

Industry spokesmen point to the prospects for voluntary compliance, increased revenues, higher rates and changing ideas about billboards.

The Senate Wednesday passed and sent to President Johnson the beautification bill, which his wife backed enthusiastically. It curtails billboards and junkyards along 225,000 miles of the nation's main roads but permits them in commercial and industrial areas.

Owners will be compensated, largely from federal funds, for billboards they have to remove.

The outdoor Advertising Association of America, which speaks for more than 600 billboard operators across the country, didn't oppose the legislation.

"The industry should expedite taking down the boards that are not in accordance with the bill," said Ross Barrett, president of Foster and Kleiser Division, Metromedia, Inc.

"The sooner they're taken down, the better for everybody," he said.

Barrett said his firm would have any conflicting boards down within one year, although the bill allows until 1970.

Ohio Lists Offer Of $10 Million To Gain A-Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio backed up its bid for a $348 million atom smasher Wednesday with an offer to make $10 million in state funds available for the project if it is located in the Buckeye State.

Gov. James A. Rhodes and 14 members of Ohio's Congressional delegation told Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Glenn Seaborg that the state funds could be used for access roads to the site of the nuclear experimental plant.

Three proposed sites in Ohio, at Ravenna, near Portsmouth and Marietta, are among 85 locations across the country being considered by the AEC. Rhodes said the $10 million offer is good for any Ohio site chosen.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said Ohio is well down the list as compared to the national average and California in the amount of federal money allocated for research and development.

U. S. Rep. William McCulloch, R-Ohio, a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Energy Commission, said he wants the federal government to select the best site available and believes it can be found in Ohio.

Unifying Step Taken In Divided Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — About 1,200 rebel troops were evacuated from downtown Santo Domingo Wednesday in a big step toward reunifying the divided capital.

Escorted by U.S. paratroopers, the armed rebel forces went to an abandoned military camp across the Ozama River east of the city.

The rebel army will be lodged at the camp until the troops are reintegrated into the national army under terms of the inter-American peace formula.

Aimed At Ending Discord

Natchez Officials, Negro Leaders Study Agreement

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — City officials and Negro leaders today discuss ways to put into effect new civil rights agreements aimed at ending racial discord.

Mayor John Nasser signed an agreement Wednesday night granting most civil rights demands, and Negro leaders in turn pledged to end demonstrations pending further settlements.

The city concessions included more Negro policemen, desegregation of the local hospital, upgrading Negro employees in area stores, formation of a biracial committee and appointment of a Negro to the school board.

Nasser and civil rights forces worked out the agreements in a City Hall conference while a handful of Ku Klux Klansmen waited quietly outside.

Charles Evers, state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, later told a Negro rally of the provisions and said, "I believe they are sincere."

He called the concessions the "first steps toward freedom."

His audience, packed into a church, expressed both surprise and joy. Some shouted "Freedom, freedom!"

The night before, Evers led

600 Negroes in a march after they rejected city rights offers as only "more words."

Negroes have been seeking official action on their demands since spring.

Evers said the new city agreements included the hiring of six Negro policemen in addition to the two already on the force.

He said the hospital had already started desegregating its facilities with two Negro women admitted to an all-white maternity ward. He said complete desegregation of the facility was promised by the end of the year.

The city agreed to appoint a Negro school board member when a vacancy comes in March, 1966.

A biracial committee will be formed in efforts to solve any further grievances.

Evers said 19 Natchez area stores have hired Negro clerks, and others promised to upgrade their Negro employees. However, he said an economic boycott would continue.

He said a federally financed anti-poverty program would begin immediately.

A Junior Editors Quiz About STARS

QUESTION: Why don't we see the stars during daylight?

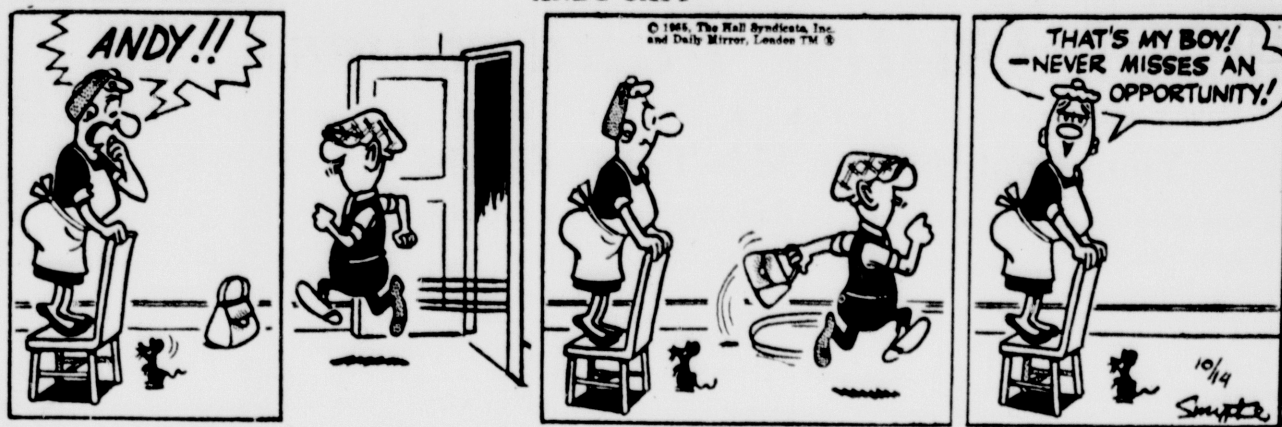

ANSWER: Because of the force of gravitation, which draws things near the earth toward its center, our planet is surrounded by a layer which we call air or atmosphere. This is composed of gases such as nitrogen, oxygen and carbon dioxide, but it also contains fine droplets of water vapor and minute suspended particles of different kinds. As the sunlight passes through the air, it is reflected from countless billions of these tiny particles with the general effect that the sky looks light. The molecules in the particles break up and scatter the white light of the sun rays into rays of different colors. As short, blue rays are scattered most widely, the general effect of the sky on a sunny day is usually blue. But if there is a large amount of water vapor in the air, this will change the sky, giving it a dull, gray effect.

Since the moon has no atmosphere surrounding it, there can be no particles or water vapor droplets to pick up the light of the sun. Consequently, even when the sun is shining brightly, scientists say that the sky from the moon will look velvety black, with myriads of stars gleaming brightly, as in the imaginary lunar landscape our artist has drawn.

FOR YOU TO DO: Study the lunar landscape, and you may imagine something is wrong. If that big white ball in the sky is the sun, why is the shadow of the rocket ship leading toward it, instead of away? But the white ball isn't the sun, which is back of the astronaut; it is the brightly illuminated earth.

Ricky Weingartner of Lincoln Park, N. J., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Science Illustrated Dictionary plus $10 in cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
